Marin Commute Problems: Studies Atop Studies

$5,000 More Asked For Review Survey

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin commuters are not getting to San Francisco any faster since the Marin Transit District was formed in the fall of 1964, but maybe pretty soon they will know why.

The transit district to date has put up $71,790 in a strange collection of fees for traffic studies. It will probably put up another $5,000 when the transit board meets again at 4:30 p.m. next Tuesday at the Civic Center.

The latest charge in the transit board's slow, studied approach will be to hire an expert to see if the information collected on traffic in Marin by the Bay Area Transit Study Commission and the Bay Toll Crossing Authority might be gathered together in one place.

"We know there is a lot of this floating around," County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told supervisors yesterday.

County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the expert is needed to gather information to see what more information is needed to get together the "balanced transportation" study asked by the board of supervisors when it backed off from the state's Highway 17 proposals.

EXPENSIVE STUDY

At that time, the board agreed 3-2, with Supervisors Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Byron W. Leydecker dissenting, that no decision on the route would be made until "balanced transportation" had been studied.

Zucker made it clear that such a study would be expensive. If information gathered so far can be collected, the cost might be reduced, he suggested. He also thought a federal grant might be obtained to pay for it—when he finds out how much will be needed.

"We also think that some of the information that has gone to BATS is in error," Zucker said.

Supervisors were about to authorize the $5,000 from the general fund, but Supervisor Thomas T. Storer suggested that the Marin Transit District might put up all or half the money.

WITH ENTHUSIASM

This suggestion was greeted with enthusiasm.

Financing studies has become a habit with the transit district.

In July of 1965, transit district taxpayers put up $4,855 to pay for a study on buses by Paul J. Fanning. His report said the transit district could either contract with Greyhound Lines to improve service through public subsidy or buy the Greyhound system and operate it.

The transit board was not

10-Minute Ride To City From Marin?

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

SAN FRANCISCO — Fuelless, noiseless subway trains whisking rush-hour office workers from San Rafael to San Francisco in 10 minutes.

A harassed commuter's dream?

It could happen in the not too distant future, according to engineer Lawrence K. Edwards, scheduled today to present his $7550 million 65-mile subway train system plan to a meeting of the Bay Area Transportation Commission in San Francisco.

No power would be used to drive his trains at fast speeds — except that provided by free natural air and free gravity, Edwards said yesterday in unveiled his plan to reporters.

A train would operate along the same lines as the vacuum tubes used in department stores — only it would create its own suction.

"It can work as the safest, smoothest and most economical

Head-On Collision Kills Marin Banker

CHARLES E. HOTALING
Shoreline wreck victim

An assistant bank branch manager from Corte Madera was among three persons killed last night in a three-car crash on Shoreline Highway in Pacifica.

Charles Edward Hotaling, 27, of 41 Prince Royal Passage, was dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City. He was the assistant manager of the Third-Brannan Branch of Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

The California Highway Patrol identified the others killed as Forrest R. Herstine, 54, of Mannasas Park, Va., and Leo P. Day, 53, of Pacifica.

Herstine's widow, Dolores, was critically injured and Day's widow, Elaine, 49, injured seriously. They also were taken to Mary's Help Hospital.

Officers said Hotaling, alone, was driving south on the highway one-half mile north of the West Manor Drive intersection when his car collided head-on with the Day car, in which Day's wife and the Herstines were passengers.

Then, a northbound car driven by Lance Sherwood Spitzer, 19, of Pacifica, rounded a curve northbound and crashed into the other two autos. He suffered minor injuries.

Officers said the accident was "one of the worst" they had seen. Two of the vehicles, including Hotaling's, were foreign compacts, the other a standard sized American car.

Two fire units were called to cut some of the victims from the tangled wreckage.

Hotaling, an employee of Wells Fargo since 1960, leaves a widow, Jocelyn, and three children, Edward, 5; Dorothy, 4, and Susan, 2.

He was a director of the Wells Fargo Club, a social group; secretary-treasurer of the Optimist Club of San Francisco, and second vice president of the Irving Street Merchants Association in San Francisco.

Born in Oneonta, N.Y., he attended schools there before coming to California.

Bonding Issue Of $900,000 Meets Defeat

A record 83.5 per cent of the eligible voters in Tomales High School District went to the polls yesterday to send a $900,000 school bond issue down to defeat by the narrow margin of 18 votes.

The vote was 835 yes, 445 no. Passage required a two-thirds majority, or 454 of the 1,280 votes cast

FANTASTIC TURNOUT

John F. Musser, director of elections in the county clerk's office, called the turnout "fantastic." He said, "As far as I can remember, this is a record for the county." Musser said school bond issues "rarely draw more than 60 per cent of the voters, and most of the time it's between 40 and 60 per cent."

A heavy turnout had been predicted for the bitterly contested bond issue, which divided the northern and southern sections of the district in a tug of war over location of the new school and created factions within those opposing the bonds.

Supt. Anthony Matulich predicted today that in view of the heavy vote in favor of the bonds, the district board would call for a new election when it meets March 9 at the school.

ON RECORD

The board had gone on record prior to the election that if the bonds were overwhelmingly defeated, it would be taken as evidence that West Marin residents did not want their own high school. In that event, the school was to be closed and students bused to other high schools under inter-district attendance agreements.

The committee working for passage of the bonds had called this "the first step toward dissolution of the district."

The bond issue was asked to build a new high school at

Youth, 14, Braves Biting Dog To Save San Anselmo Woman

A 14-year-old Independent-Journal carrier yesterday rescued a San Anselmo woman who had fallen into a pool of water at her home.

The woman's dog, unappreciative of the rescue, bit the boy three times, San Anselmo police reported.

Mario E. Watkins of 488 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, was delivering a newspaper to the home of Mrs. Rita Hitch, 88, of 12 Spruce Avenue at 5:30 p.m., and found Mrs. Hitch lying on her back in a shallow pool in front of her home.

He went into her house and called police, then took out a blanket to cover her until police arrived. A small poodle at Mrs. Hitch's side bit him three times as he was covering her with the blanket.

Patrolman Kenneth J. Marshall of San Anselmo police arrived and, with Mario, pulled Mrs. Hitch clear of the pool, after Marshall chased the poodle away.

She told them she had fallen into the pool at 9:30 a.m. and lay there throughout the day, unable to arise. She was taken to Marin General Hospital by amublance, and was in good condition there today.

A relative of Mrs. Hitch later told police the dog had been vaccinated against rabies.

San Rafael Tidelands Sold To Heifetz For $1 Million

By DAVID DIETZ

Developer Harry Heifetz disclosed yesterday the purchase of a corporation owning 650 acres of East San Rafael tidelands for $1 million.

He said cosmetics magnate William Penn Patrick is a partner in the venture.

Bought was the Marin Canalways and Development Co., its principals including Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner and his former law partner, Harold F. Riede of San Rafael.

The property, much of which generated a heated controversy over development two years ago, is in two parcels. A 160-acre package is within a dike running north and south along the San Rafael Canal. The balance of land lies outside the levee, to the east.

Heifetz said he seeks to develop the diked area with industry and residential units, as permitted in a plan adopted by the city council last May. Immediate development of the other 500 acres was ruled out because of a moratorium on fill by the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Heifetz, who recently abandoned a bid to buy the San Rafael courthouse property, said it would be premature to assume he had a timetable for construction on the diked lands.

"We want to take a look at the area first," he said. "But I'm sure we can live with the city and the city with us. I don't expect to use all of it for construction."

A subject of repeated debate, Heifetz's newly purchased property was among tidelands shown for eventual development on a city general plan in 1964 which brought outcry from so many citizens that it was scrapped by the city council.

The revised plan adopted last year makes no reference to use of that area. It does, however, include development of the diked portion, suggesting a shoreline boulevard, an industrial section along Highway 17, about 750 apartment units and 250 single-family homes, a regional park and yacht harbor.

Heifetz said plans for development would reasonably follow such guidelines.

Confirming the sale, Gardiner said his five-member group was unable to carry the property because of high taxes.

"Thep roperty may be worth two or three million dollas a couple of years from now," he said, "but we couldn't wait that long."

He said the corporation, which

New Province Won For Mao

HONG KONG (UPI)—Peking Radio said today supporters of Mao Tse-tung backed by the army had seized control of Shantung Province in a six-month struggle marked by "many bloody incidents."

Shantung, which juts out into the Yellow Sea like a giant finger protruding from the East Coast, is the fourth province Mao's power center in Peking has claimed to have won by force. The others were Shansi, Heilungkiang and Kweichow.

The broadcast said a provisional revolutionary committee had been set up in Shangtung and that the committee has taken over all powers "with the help of the Army."

The Peking report followed a Shanghai Radio broadcast which said supporters of Mao Tse-tung had formed a "liquidation group" in the city to crush anti-Mao organizations, arrest their leaders and confiscate their property.

The Peking broadcast said the Mao forces had set up their headquarters in Tsingtao, the big port city that was the U.S. 7th Fleet headquarters before the Communists overran China. It spoke of "bloody incidents" but gave no details.

The broadcasts coincided with reports in the right-wing English tabloid Hong Kong Star that Mao had given Premier Chou En-lai full executive

Rasnick Pleads Innocent To Charge

President Gets Bill On National Debt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House completed congressional action today on a bill to raise the temporary national debt limit by $6 billion to $336 billion.

The bill increases the ceiling from $330 billion on the amount of money the government may owe through bonds and other borrowings. It was sent to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Governor-Elect Aid Is Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state would provide a governor-elect with funds for preparing to take command, under legislation proposed today by Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco.

Noting that both former Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Gov. Ronald Reagan financed the change-over period with private funds left over from campaign contributions, Burton said the burden "is better shared by the people of the state . . ."

Burton said he does not think it wise for a governor-elect to use political contributions and funds from special interest groups in launching a new administration.

Apartment Fire Kills Disabled Fairfax Man

A 35-year-old disabled veteran was killed early today when flames engulfed his studio apartment at 18 Summer Avenue in Fairfax.

Killed was Ronald Eugene Maatta, who had lived there for five months.

Fairfax Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton said he believed the fire to have begun when Maatta fell asleep while smoking.

The blaze was discovered at 3:45 a.m. by William Kidwell, upstairs tenant of the duplex, who told firemen he was awakened by the smell of smoke and crackling of flames.

Kidwell said he found Maatta lying unconscious or dead by the door to the studio apartment, and managed to drag him halfway out before being driven back by smoke and flame. Kidwell's wife called the fire department.

Two fire engines and about 20 men responded to the call and had the fire under control in five minutes, containing it in Maatta's one-room apartment, which was gutted. Thornton estimated damage at $3,000.

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fonataine said Maatta died of smoke inhallation.

A native of San Francisco, Maatta served in the Navy from May 1951 to April 1955. He was drawing a disability pension, the assistant coroner said.

He is survived by his father, Howard G. Maatta of Mill Valley.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Governor Term Limit Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate committee rejected today a Republican move to limit California's governor to two terms in office.

The Governmental Efficiency Committee voted after no debate on the proposed constitutional amendment sponsored by Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio.

But the committee offered better prospects for a proposal to turn the antique Executive Mansion into a historical monument. Members took no action on a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, pending decisions on building a new mansion.

BERKELEY SIT-INS DRAW FINES, JAIL

Savio, Three Other Non-Students Called 'Not Naive' By Judge; Appeals Planned

BERKELEY (AP)—A 90-day jail term and a $350 fine are Mario Savio's penalty for joining a demonstration against a Navy recruiting team at the University of California's Student Union.

Municipal Court Judge Floyd Talbott imposed jail terms and fines yesterday on Savio and four others convicted of committing a public nuisance in the protest last Nov. 30.

A busload of Alameda County sheriff's deputies were called to put down violence at the demonstration.

As a student, Savio led the 1964 Free Speech Movement's sit-in occupation of Sproul Hall which resulted in more than 750 arrests. The FSM sought greater political liberty for students.

No longer a student, Savio, 24, now works as a part time bartender and a private research assistant.

Jerry Rubin, 28, an announced candidate for mayor of Berkeley and a former Vietnam Day Committee leader of antiwar protests, was sentenced to 45 days in jail and fined $125.

Steven Hamilton, 22, was given a 90-day jail term and fined $300. Stewart Albert, 26, and Michael J. Smith, 25, each drew 60-day terms and $300 fines.

Judge Talbott suspended 10 days of Savio's term and $20 of his fine. He suspended 15 days of Hamilton's term and five days for the other three.

"These are not naive defendants," Talbott said. He explained he ordered the suspensions "so the court will continue to have control over the cases."

Defense attorney Visilios Choulos said he was shocked at the severity of the sentences.

He asked a stay of execution pending the filing of appeals. Talbott will rule on the stay March 7. Savio and the four others are being required to post $400 appeal bonds.

Savio left the court hurriedly. He told newsmen he had nothing to say.

Army Medic's Fast Is Now In Third Day

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A slightly built Army medic who decided early Monday that he would rather starve to death than remain in the Army was unable to talk or swallow late yesterday, a spokesman said.

Atty. William L. Hanson, a Quaker, said Pfc. Robert Levy, 22, Kansas City, Mo., was in great pain but still refused all liquids or food.

A hospital spokesman said today that the last report he received, Levy was still fasting.

Levy, an Orthodox Jew, enlisted in the Army 18 months ago for three years in the Medical Corps, then extended his enlistment for four extra months to fulfill requirements for a clinical specialist school. He has been at nearby Ft. Lewis for six months. He began the total fast at 8 a.m. Monday after a two-week diet of milk and honey in protest of military violence.

Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission president is Irving Moulin.

Ballet Artist's Widow Denied Famed Portrait

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Madame Romola Nijinsky, widow of the late ballet artist Vaslav Nijinsky, lost a four-year suit yesterday for a charcoal portrait of him.

The widow contended the portrait, which has been in the San Francisco Bohemian Club since 1929, was stolen.

Superior Court Judge Charles S. Peery, declaring that Madam Nijinsky had "failed to sue diligence in bringing this action to trial," dismissed her suit on request of the exclusive club.

In her 1962 suit, she charged that the portrait by John Singer Sargent was among items stolen in a burglary from the Nijinsky apartment in Paris in 1928 or 1929.

She claimed it was missing until a relative spotted it in a 1962 Sargent exhibition held at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, where it was on loan from the club.

Cong Hits Back, Leaving High Toll

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. infantrymen engaged in the war's biggest campaign met the heavy resistance they long expected and killed 184 Viet Cong in bitter fighting which left more than 100 American dead or wounded, military spokesmen said today.

U.S. military officials said the fierce battle yesterday in War Zone C raged from daybreak through midnight and was marked by the heaviest tear gas attack ever launched by Communists in Vietnam.

The fighting broke out in several areas along the Cambodian border region about 70 miles northwest of Saigon where more than 35,000 American soldiers have been engaged in the week-old search and destroy operation called Junction City.

The bloodiest conflict erupted early in the day, spokesmen said, when a 1st Infantry Division squad received fire from a well-entrenched guerrilla force of an estimated 200 men.

The infantrymen pulled back. Air strikes and artillery were called in. Then a company of about 200 U.S. infantrymen moved in for the fight. Resistance was stronger than expected and the battle went on for 12 hours.

Spokesmen said the Americans suffered "heavy" casualties in the fight, meaning more than 50 per cent of the unit was killed or wounded. But the Communists finally broke contact and left behind 150 dead, spokesmen said.

The Viet Cong tear gas attack occurred only a short distance away where a U.S. armored contingent and an infantryman unit forced the guerrillas into a trap. Spokesmen said it was the first time in the war that Communist used the irritant gas in quantities sufficient enough to require Americans to don gas masks.

Under the cover of the gas, spokesmen said, the guerrillas quietly retreated into the jungle. It was only about the fifth time in the war that Communists have used the gas. American units do so more frequently to flush guerrillas from hiding places in bunkers and tunnels.

In the coastal plains about 320 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. Marine force which landed in an amphibious assault made its first contact with enemy troops. Spokesmen said the leathernecks battled a guerrilla force of unknown size Monday. There were no reports of casualties in ground fighting, but a HU1E helicopter was shot down in the area and one of its American crewmen was wounded.

DRIVER DIES IN FREEWAY INFERNO

Firemen battle a blazing chemical truck on Harbor Freeway offramp in Los Angeles. The driver died in the inferno, trapped in the cab in the accident which occurred last night. Also more than 6,000 gallons of a volatile chemical similar to alcohol spilled from the tank and flowed through drains into the nearby harbor where it ignited on the water, threatening several barges. A fireboat fought the fire as tug boats towed the barges to safety. (UPI Telephoto)

VOTE

Tomales, replacing the existing one, which has been declared unsafe under the earthquake standards of the Field Act of 1933.

Yesterday's vote was a victory for those who wanted the issue to fail, but also wanted a strong enough "yes" to register West Marin's desire for its own high school.

This group opposed building the school at Tomales, student population center of the district. These voters, largely in the southern portion of the district, want a new school at Point Reyes Station, geographical center of the district. They hoped by barely defeating the bonds to preserve the district but gain time and a show of political strength to press for the southerly location.

A section faction failed in its objective: overwhelming defeat of the bond issue to achieve dissolution of the district and busing students to other high schools, which this group believes offer better educational programs.

The vote, however, proved to be a vote of confidence in the district's program, despite the differences over location.

Voting in the district generally followed the pattern of north-south differences on where to build. In three of the polling places in the south, Point Reyes Station, Inverness and Point Reyes School, 317 of the 445 "no" votes were cast.

The vote by polling places in Marin County was: Point Reyes School, yes 7, no 10; Inverness, yes 97, no 205; Point Reyes Station, yes 163, no 102; Marshall, yes 60, no 23; Tomales yes 191, no 25.

At polling places in Sonoma County: Bloomfield, yes 69, no 27; American Valley, yes 49, no 2; Watson, yes 15, no 3; Bodega Bay, yes 173, no 23.

There were 36 absentee ballots, yes 11, no 25.

powers to "stop the cultural revolution and restore China's economy." But the Peking report indicated the great "cultural revolution" was far from over.

The broadcast by Shanghai Radio followed other Communist reports of fresh violence in rich-rice Kiangsi Province, Red Guard terror in the countryside and new trouble for Red China's barebones economy.

The English-language tabloid also reported starving Red Guards in Canton were selling their Red arm bands and Mao badges to foreign tourists in order to get money to buy food.

Neither report could be confirmed by other sources.

The right-wing daily New Life Evening Post of Hong Kong, meanwhile, said wall posters in South China's largest city announced the arrest of Tseng Sheng, mayor of Canton, and Chau Tse-yang, vice governor of Kwangtung province in which Canton is located.

The Shanghai broadcast said the "liquidation group" was formed by pro-Mao forces which claimed to have taken control of China's largest city in January.

Rush Is On In Earnest For School Board Posts

The rush was on in earnest today for school board candidates in Marin.

Six more filings of candidacy were reported at the county superintendent of schools office for the elections to be held April 18.

Two entered the race in Novato Unified School District, making it the most crowded so far in the county. Latest aspirants are Mrs. Anajean B. Anderson, a housewife of 270 Fairway Drive, and Irving D. Chapman Jr., shoe store proprietor of 1462 Pastel Lane. This brings to seven the number of candidates for four positions to be filled on the seven-member Novato board.

In Dixie School District, trustee Melvin R. Stidham of 8 Cabrillo Court, San Rafael, filed for a second term. He is the second of the two incumbents whose terms expire to declare for re-election.

In Laguna School District, incumbent Eda Tomasetti of 2170 Chileno Valley Road, Petaluma, filed for another term — also the second incumbent filing with two positions to be filled.

In Marin Junior College District, Edward K. Wachsman, insurance broker of 50 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, entered the race, the fourth candidate with four positions to be filled.

In Fairfax district, Mrs. Jane S. Durr, housewife of 470 Cascade Drive, filed her petition, becoming the second candidate with two openings on the board at stake.

Filing closes Friday.

SURVEY

thoroughly satisfied with this. It hired Arthur C. Jenkins, engineer of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, at $1,827 to find more high-powered consultants. He recommended the New York firm of Cloverdale and Colpitts. Their report, costing $60,000, came in late last year, recommending that the transit district could either contract with Greyhound Lines to improve service through public subsidy or buy the system and operate it.

Cloverdale and Colpitts also did some origin and destination studies. These showed that most of the cars on the road during commute hours in the morning were headed to San Francisco, and in the evening most of them were headed home.

Jenkins was called in again, at a fee not to exceed $2,000, to assimilate all this. He found that there should be further study, but it should not be done by consultants. Instead, he recommended, the transit district should hire a fulltime transit administrator with staff to study the costs in detail and see what kind of deal could be made with Greyhound.

It is Jenkins' report of the consultant's report that is to be considered by the transit district board next Tuesday. Supervisors yesterday added discussion of the new, $5,000 preliminary study, to the agenda.

The transit district's tax rate, which was .3 of a cent the first year, was 5 cents this year. It has not yet been set for next year.

had included former Superior Court Judge Jordan L. Martinelli Sr., L. V. Waymire of San Rafael and Alice M. Davis of San Francisco, never considered developing the property because of prohibitive costs.

"It would take millions of dollars to develop it," he said. "We don't have that kind of money."

Heifetz, a former Marin County planning commissioner, offered $900,000 for the county-owned courthouse property in November, but reneged when county supervisors changed sale conditions in the face of protests by the San Rafael City Council.

Patrick, head of Holiday Magic Cosmetics and an unsuccessful candidate for Republican nomination for governor last year, was Heifetz's partner in that deal, too.

In fact, said Heifetz yesterday, "Mr. Patrick is a partner in all my land deals."

308 Cases Of Rabies In '66

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A total of 308 cases of animal rabies were reported in 40 California counties during 1966, with more than half of them occurring in skunks.

The state Department of Public Health said the breakdown of the 308 cases showed 154 in skunks; 54 in bats; 42 foxes; 24 dogs; 14 bovines; four each in coyotes and cats; 10 bobcats and two horses.

San Diego County had the most cases reported with 63. The San Diego cases included only four skunks but had 38 cases in foxes and 10 in bobcats.

Henry Clay Gave Beef Cattle Assist

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Statesman Henry Clay gave an assist to the beef cattle business in Kentucky, which now produces more than one million head a year for the market.

Clay imported the first Herefords into the state and by 1852 Kentucky cattle were rated prize offerings on the New York markets.

West Novato Annexation Study Backed

A feasibility study on annexation of a large area in West Novato to the Novato Sanitary District was approved last night by the Sanitary district baord.

Carlos E. Ganzalez, San Rafael civil engieer, offered to make the study on condition that he be made engineer for the resulting assessment district if annexation goes ahead. The board agreed, said Charles Joseph, engineer-manager.

The area lies on Trumbull, McClay, Wilson and Indian Valley roads. Boundaries have not been established, Joseph said.

Drinking Up During 1966

CHICAGO (AP) — Americans apparently drank more but smoked less during 1966.

Commerce Clearing House reports that federal excise collections indicate Americans also bought more gasoline, lubricating oil and tires and tubes and traveled more as well.

Liquor and beer accounted for more than $3.8 billion, up nearly $42 million from 1965.

Tobacco collections slipped by almost $75 million from the 1965 all-time high of more than $2.1 billion with collections from cigarettes alone falling $63 million to just over the $2 billion mark.

Gasoline tax colelctions rose from $2.69 billion to $2.82 billion in 1966. Other motoring needs also showed a marked increase.

Chapel's Widow To Seek Post

PALOS VERDES ESTATES (AP) — Mrs. Charles Chapel, widow of the veteran Republican assemblyman, hopes to succeed him in Sacramento.

Chapel died in Sacramento late last month.

Mrs. Chapel, a former secretary in the Inglewood school system, said yesterday she will be a candidate for the April 11 special election to fill the vacancy created by his death.

Observers have predicted that numerous candidates will file for the office. In order to win, a candidate must get a majority of all votes cast. If not, the top Republican and Democrat will go into a runoff on May 9.

County Firemen Made 497 Calls During '66

Marin County Fire Department had a busy year last year and a critical fire season due to tinder dry vegetation.

The department responded to 497 fire calls last year, the highest since 1959, Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom reported in his annual summary today.

There were 274 grass, brush or forest fires in Marin, a 46 per cent increase over the 187 in 1965, he said.

The largest fire, on the Les Corda and Silveira ranches along Highway 101 on July 1, burned 800 acres. This fire was in the Novato Fire District, but county crews assisted the Novato Fire Department.

The largest fire in the county's jurisdiction was the Marincello fire Oct. 18, which burned about 500 acres of brushland.

Chief Bloom said that 2,342 acres were burned, as compared to 2,849 in 1965. Of the total acreage, 953 acres were in county jurisdiction.

Other larges fires included the Marinwood fire July 2, which covered 400 acres; the Christmas Tree Ranch Fire Sept. 27 along Bolinas Ridge, 100 acres, and the Indian Rock Road fire Nov. 1 in San Anselmo, 150 acres.

One of the features of the fire season was the increased use of chemical drops from State Division of Forestry planes from Sonoma, the chief reported. Planes made drops on the Marinwood, Christmas Tree and Marincello fires.

In each case, the use of planes "assisted materially in slowing down the fire front until fire lines encircled the fire perimeter," he said.

There were 63 structural fire calls in county jurisdiction, a drop from the 77 in 1965, but the damage was estimated at $456,302, as compared to $277,130 in 1965.

The largest structural fire was at the Forest Knolls store, Feb. 14, with loss estimated at $70,000.

During the year the department purchased an ambulance for use at the Point Reyes Station, with $2,225 contributed by residents and $1,025 appropriated by the county.

Operation of the ambulance from the Point Reyes Station cuts in half the emergency travel time to a hospital from West Marin, the chief said. Previously ambulance service was from either San Rafael or Petaluma.

The department's rescue unit, stationed at Point Reyes Station, participated in 12 rescue operations, mostly involving rope climbing on coastal cliffs "as high as 400 feet or more," the chief said.

Firemen answered 40 resuscitator calls during the year, and a new resuscitator was placed in a unit at the Lucas Valley substation.

Of the 497 fire calls, 274 were grass or brush, 63 structural, 42 vehicle, 81 miscellaneous, 26 illegal burning, and 11 false alarms.

The department replaced an older tanker at the Point Reyes Station, and obtained a power grader for fire trail work.

Arrest Made In Big Theft

San Rafael police yesterday arrested a 38-year-old man in connection with the theft of more than $4,000 worth of goods from an Oakland truck terminal last year.

Booked on a charge of concealment of stolen property was Carl Allen Cole of 83 Bret Harte Road. He was arrested at his residence.

Police said household items stolen from the Pacific Motor Trucking Co. terminal in Oakland was recovered from Cole's former residence at 328 Bayview Street, San Rafael, last Nov. 17 by Special Agent K. E. Hawkins of Northwestern Pacific Railroad, parent firm of the trucking company.

Cole was freed in $1,100 bail pending plea entry today in Marin Municipal Court.

Child Victim Due U.S. Care

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A newly formed group of doctors, ministers and businessmen said today it planned to bring war-maimed and burned children from Vietnam to America for restorative surgery.

Frank Thompson, Northern California director of the Committee of Responsibility, said a team of four doctors will be sent to Vietnam in April to screen applicants.

The youngsters will be treated at hospitals throughout the United States, Thompson said, including the University of California Medical Center and St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, Stanford Hospital in Palo Alto and Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Vallejo.

He said the committee consists of more than 500 persons.

Pair Surprises Church Burglar

A burglar fled from the parish hall of St. Sylvester's Church at 1115 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, last night when surprised by a priest and a parishioner.

Rev. John Tierney and Gerard E. Lindeke of 108 Robinhood Drive, San Rafael, noticing a light in the hall at 9:24 p.m., opened the front door, and saw a man inside. When the man failed to acknowledge their calls, the priest locked the door and called a passing sheriff's patrol car.

But the intruder escaped the same way he got into the hall — through an east window. Nothing appeared to have been stolen.

Home In Space Given Patent

WASHINGTON (SS)—A three-winged home in space that could house up to 24 astronauts for a year or more in orbit has received a patent number.

Its five inventors claim that the huge station—150 feet across—could easily erect itself in space after an unmanned launch. Its three wings, which would contain living quarters and laboratories, would be folded underneath the central hub for launch. In that position, they would form a single smooth cylinder behind the conical nose cone. Once in space, the wings would fold out to their normal radial position.

Small rockets on the ends of the wings would rotate the station, producing about a fourth of normal gravity at the station's outermost points.

$10,700 Price Tag For School Survey

Detailed survey date requested by land planners for Mill Valley School District's "middle school" on Camino Alto would cost $10,700, city engineer Stanley M. Bala yesterday advised city and school officials.

An aerial survey of the Project 17 area, also requested by the land planners, would add $3,400 to the cost, he said. n Aunknown cost would be searching titles of the properties involved, he added.

Bala called his estimates conservative. Preparation of the survey data would take two and one-half months, he said.

Bala also prepared, on his own initiative, estimates that preparation of a property map without survey would cost $1,050, and take only three weeks. "Such a map would represent no value from the engineering point of view now or later, but may be acceptable for the immediate planning use," he explained.

Robert Royston, or Royston, Hanamoto, Mayes and Beck, the firm doing the master plan for the site for $10,300, today said the less expensive alternate proposed by Bala "is adequate for our present purpose."

If the planners find the present site can accommodate the "middle school" and city recreation facilities, the detailed engineering work will have to be done, Bala and Royston agreed. The site is crossed by many kinds of easements, Bala noted, and property lines in some cases are off by as much as 50 feet.

City councilmen have delayed signing the joint city-school contract with Royston pending receipt of Bala's estimates. The contract will be considered Monday by the council at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

Mill Valley School District trustees voted Monday to hold an election June 13 on a bond measure of more than $3 million. The bond would finance a "middle school" for 1,200 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils and improve existing schools. Exact amount of the bond measure is to be set before mid-April.

Doctors At Dinner Save Choke Victim

SAN DIEGO (AP)—An elderly man was in satisfactory condition today after four doctors performed surgery in a restaurnat to save his life.

Orrel Reed, 78, of San Diego was choking on a piece of meat at a Mission Valley restaurant Monday night. Efforts by a restaurant hostess, bus boy and sheriff's deputy failed to revive him.

Then the hostess, Mrs. Robert Alexander, remembered that the staff of Doctors Hospital was meeting upstaris. Four doctors responded to her call.

The doctors performed a tracheotomy, cutting a small hole in Reed's throat so he could breathe.

The operation required a kitchen knife, a ball point pen, a plastic tube from a milk dispenser and several safety pins.

"It was a miracle of God," Mrs. Alexander said. "I'm sure that if the doctors hadn't been there the man would have died.

Hub Council Fills Rec, Street Jobs

The San Anselmo City Council last night dispensed with recruiting and named two city employees to fill positions vacated by resignations.

Frank J. Quinn was appointed director of parks and recreation to succeed Andrew J. Snyder Jr., who has resigned effective March 15 to become San Rafael park and recreation director.

Vern Ingraham was named street foreman to succeed Paul Pyles, who is going to work for the city of Ventura. Ingraham is now an equipment operator.

Quinn was handed a three-headed job a little later in the meeting, although he will not become director until March 15.

The council named Quinn chairman of a committee to draw plans for San Anselmo's 60th anniversary celebration this summer, a committee to plan a spring cleanup campaign, and a committee to plan a Christmas celebration for city employees.

Quinn was San Anselmo's director of parks and recreation on a part-time basis for several years until Snyder was hired as a full-time director. He has been athletic director under Snyder.

During the two weeks before Quinn's appointment becomes effective, the council decided last night, he will be titled assistant director and will draw the same salary as Synder, $883 a month.

Ingram will start as street foreman at $644 a month.

Save The Panther Bill Is Defeated

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — The State Senate has defeated a House-approved bill designed to save the panther from extinction in Vermont.

The last panther known to have been killed in the state was put on exhibit in the State Historical Museum after it was slain in 1881.

Gravity Subway Urged As Transit Solution

answer to the growing traffic problem," said Edwards ,former assistant chief engineer in the Space Systems Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. at Sunnyvale and now head of Tube Transit Inc. of Palo Alto.

Trains running at nearly 100 miles an hour every four minutes along adjacent tubes from Santa Venetia to San Jose could carry from 20,000 to 35,000 passengers an hour, seated in space "better than a first class airliner," he said.

In Marin, Edwards plans stations at Santa Venetia, San Rafael, Corte Maders, Mill Valley, and Sausalito.

Typical traveling time for commuters taking the underground train at Market Street, San Francisco, to Sausalito would be four minutes; to Mill Valley — six minutes, and to Santa Venetia, 13 minutes.

Secret of the speed and smoothness of the ride, according to Edwards, is contained in what he termed "gravity-vacuum transit."

Like pistons in a cylinder, the trains would run in the steel tubes on wheels. The tunnels would dip down into the earth and up again between stations.

Motive power would be the result of a combination of normal atmospheric pressure valved in behind the train and out in front of it, and gravity as the train started down the incline.

In motion between stations, Edwards saw the trains acting like a pendulum, describing a gentle arc, Movement downhill would take it up the other side under the control of changing air pressures.

To make it work, he estimated stations would have to be no less than three miles apart.

On the five-mile run between San Francisco and Sausalito, he estimated the tunnels would swing to a maximum of 1,750 feet under the bay.

Among the advantages Edwards claimed for his system:

1. Minimum displacement of homes, businesses and industry with relatively little property removed from tax rolls.

2. Preserved scenic values with no surface right-of-way, underpass or bridge structures.

3. Less air pollution, noise and surface traffic congestion.

He said the stations, about 100 feet below ground, could be as clean and efficient as hotel lobbies. On the surface could be parking for any number of cars.

He expected that GVT, "unlike most forms of public passenger transit," had a good chance of being financially self-supporting. He claimed this was due to competitive capital costs, low operation and maintenance costs.

How long would it take to get the project underway and completed?

Edwards worked out that it would take just over eight years from the time counties involved -- Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara — said the word "go." This would include the time taken by state legislature to authorize the necessary four-county authority.

Edwards said he considered the money could be raised from revenue bonds rather than property taxes.

The GVT concept, he said, was originated and owned by Lockheed, but he had researched it and held the option to buy.

"It is the result of several years of consultations with technical experts throughout the country," he said.

Making More, Reading Less

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The number of books borrowed from Johannesburg's City Library appears to be a reflection of the prosperity of its citizens.

City librarian Anna Smith claims that when people are prosperous, they read less and go out more. When money is scarce more books are borrowed for home reading.

Miss Smith said in her annual report Johannesburg's white population of about 385,000 read 3,785,720 library boosk last year—about 900,000 less than the year before.

Microscopic Welding Idea

WASHINGTON (SS)—A device to connect subminiature electronic units by laser was patented last week by James G. Harper.

With electronic components such as transistors and integrated circuits getting smaller all the time, connecting them to other components has become a problem. Conventional soldering guns are too large and too hot for use on microscopic items.

The system patented used a laser in the infrared range to join lead wires from two thousandths to seven ten-thousandths of an inch thick. The joining technique is suitable for microscoping welding sites, the patent claims.

Sewage Plant Pipeline Bids Opened, Deferred

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors Monday night received a low bid of $4,188 from Soiland Co. of Ignacio to extend a two and one-half inch water line from the south end of Sausalito to the district treatment plant at Fort Bakef.

Other bidders were Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera, $5,044, and Associated Pipe Line of Hayward, $5,280, reported board President Cyril G. Hansen. District engineers Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton had setimated cost of the job at $3,600.

Pending agreement with Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District on use of the Sausalito lateral right-of-way, award of a contract was deferred to the next meeting, March 27 at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

The water line became necessary when the Army advised the sanitary district that it no longer would provide water for the treatment plant.

Directors also authorized plant operator William C. Dabner to negotiate for purchase of a new chlorinator for the plant, estimated to cost $2,340.

Planners Sound Transit Pleas

SAN FRANCISCO — Better mass transportation instead of more freeways is the recommendation of the staff of this city's planning commission to get people to and from work here in the future.

"Most of our urban highways have reached congestive saturation," the staff explained. "If we continue to proliferate them, as in Los Angeles, our downtown would become largely concrete."

The planners said "we should provide attractive alternatives which can get him (the motorist) home in less time and offer him something more creative to do with his time."

1964 Rights Slayings Mean New Indictment

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) —A Mississippi sheriff, his chief deputy and the head of the nation's most militant Ku Klux Klan groups faced federal conspiracy charges today in the 1964 slayings of three young civil rights workers.

The three men were among 19 person arrested yesterday on indictments returned by a federal grand jury after a week of secret testimony.

All were charged with conspiring in a plot which led to the deaths of the three integrationists near Philadelphia, Miss., during Mississippi's "long hot summer" of 1964.

Among those arrested was Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., of Laurel, identified by the FBI as Imperial Wizard of the ultra-secret White Knights of the Klan. This was the first time Bowers had been charged in the case.

Bowers was one of 15 alleged Klansmen indicted last summer on federal conspiracy charges stemming from the Hattiesburg firebombing. As in the Philadelphia case, however, these earlier indictments were expected to be dismissed due to technicalities.

Bowers, 42, who operates a vending machine business in Laurel took the fifth amendment last year during a Congressional investigation of the Klan when asked if his group had ordered the "extermination" of Michael Schwerner, a white New Yorker and one of the three youths slain at Philadelphia. The other victims were Andrew Goodman, also a white New Yorker, and James Chaney, a Meridian Negro.

Most of the other defendants, including sheriff Lawrence Rainey of Neshoba County and his chief deputy, Cecil Price, were indicted on similar charges two years ago. The original indictments were thrown out in 1966 because of legal technicalities.

The new indictments were returned Monday by a 23 member biracial panel in Jackson, but were kept secret pending the arrests. The jury also returned an undisclosed number of new indictments in another major civil rights case —the firebomb death of Negro leader Vernon Dahmer near Hattiesburg last year.

The names of those cited in the Dahmer case were expected to be revealed shortly, possibly today.

More Air Cadets Admit Cheating

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Six more cadets admitted cheating and were kicked out of the Air Force Academy today, raising the toll to 46 future pilot-officers banished for classroom cribbing in the second scandal in two years.

More Air Force cadets were expected to be tagged as cheaters and officials said the number might reach 60.

"We're still holding with the figure of 60 implicated," said Lt. Col. Stewart Bachtelle, deputy academy information officer. "It might go either side of that, but we hope on the short side.

Poles, Czechs Sign 20-Year Bloc Treaty

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland and Czechoslovakia signed a new 20-year treaty of friendship and military assistance today directed against West Germany.

It was the first of a group of such treaties expected this month with which Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany are forging a new Communist sub-bloc dedicated in perpetuating the division of Germany.

The Polish-Czechoslovakia pact declared both nations' present frontiers inviolable and said Hitler's 1938 Munich agreement against Czechoslovakia was made with the threat of force and was never valid.

The treaty said the two nations would provide each other "all assistance including military" in the event of an attack by West German "militarist and revengist forces" or any of their allies.

Mine Is Found In Ships Hold

STOCKTON (UPI) — A U. S.-built anti-tank mine, apparently left over from a weapons shipment to Vietnam, was discovered in the hold of a freighter here, the Navy reported yesterday.

The mine was discovered under a pile of wood aboard the SS Harbor Hill, which arrived from Vietnam Monday night. The device had apparently been overlooked in the unloading process in Vietnam.

A Navy demolition team from the Concord Naval Weapons Station was rushed to the ship and disarmed the mine.

Airports Fogged In

Fog this morning closed the Marin County Airport at Novato and the flight line at Hamilton Air Force Base to visual flying. It burned off and both airports were opened to visual flying by mid-morning.

Home Occupation Code Redefined

What occupations for profit an individual may pursue in his home would be defined and controlled under a zoning ordinance amendment proposed last night to the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The amendment would draw the line at which a "home occupation" becomes a commercial enterprise, and would place emphaiss on whether the occupation was compatible with the residential character of the neighborhood.

The amendment was proposed by City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner under a mandate from the commission to proceed with reform and updating of the zoning ordinance. Last night's proposal was one of a series to be presented. When all have been acted on, the result will be virtually a new ordinance.

The commission set a public hearing for March 28 at 7:30 p.m. on the amendment.

If finally adopted, the amendment will replace the existing definition of home occupations in old-fashioned traditional terms with a clear-cut description of limitations.

These would specify that a home occupation be conducted entirely within a dwelling used primarily as a residence; that no person other than residents or domestic help be employed; that no alterations to the building or installation of mechancial or electrical equipment occur that would change the fire rating of the building; that it result in no use of utilities in excess of residential requirements; that there be no indoor or outdoor storage of equipment and supplies, and that the occupation increase vehicular traffic by no more than one vehicle at a time.

Providing they meet those requirements, permitted home occupations would include: accountant, architect, artist, attorney, author, beauty operator, dressmaking, insurance, millinery, preserving and home cooking, individual stringed instrument instruction, individual tutoring, and similar uses.

Basketball Queen Voting Being Held

Redwood High School students voted today for the "Basketball Queen" to be crowned at the "Basket Ball" Saturday in the new student center.

Candidates for the title are Phyllis Stolz, Sue Clark, Kathie Piro, Marty Slivka, Sue Flynn, and Tanya Golz.

Reno Diocese Bishop Named

RENO (AP)—The Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of Lansing, Mich., was named today to head the Reno Roman Catholic diocese, covering all of Nevada.

His selection by the Vatican was described as a "dark horse" by one Reno Catholic official. Usually a successor to Robert Joseph Dwyer, new archbishop of Portland, would have come from the West.

High School Renovation Is Accepted

The San Rafael Board of Education last night accepted rehabilitation of the main building of San Rafael High School as complete.

Principal Alan S. Ellsberg said, "We'll start to move in Monday."

The rehabilitation project, under way more than a year, included the auditorium, administrative offices, audio visual bookroom and 14 classrooms, as well as exterior repainting and rebuilding of the front steps.

The basic contract with Olsen-Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa totaled $609,840, including change orders, and the total project cost $746,822, reported Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte.

The work included complete removal and replacement of interior finishes, structural and fine and panic improvements, he said.

Aside from the basic contract, other expenditures were for auditorium seating, stage lighting, students' chairs and desks office chairs, file cabinets, desks, tables, carpeting, window caulking, and office partitions.

Employment Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — There were 7.2 million employed Californians and only 419,000 unemployed in January, a record for the month, the State Employment Department reported Tuesday.

Nursery School's Request Studied

The San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School asked the San Rafael Board of Education last night if it could move into the former administration building at San Rafael High School.

The building now houses classes, which will soon move back into the main building, now that rehabilitation has been completed.

Board members agreed to await a recommendation from Supt. John F. Plank on use of the building before making any decision.

Plank said "total needs" of the district will have to be considered; those that are "directly educational" and "additional maintenance space."

The building also will have to be considered in regard to the Field Act, which sets earthquake-resistant standards, he said. (It was built after the Field Act became law.)

The nursesy school's bid came in a letter from Jenny White Marshall, president, and Inga Brower, building chairman. They said the building would lend itself to observation and participation by high school students in the nursery school program.

"We would be happy to contribute our entire building fund, approximately $6,000, and to discuss any other financial arrangements," they wrote. "Our goal is to be self-supporting to the highest degree possible, and we would continue to work toward that end."

A letter to the board from attorney John G. Buresh, challenging legality of turning over the building to the co-operative nursery school, was not read at the meeting.

The school is in a "temporary" building on the San Rafael High School grounds where it has been for 14 years. A bid last spring for the city schools to erect a building for it was turned down after a challenge by Buresh. Last November, the co-operative applied for a permit for use of a residence at 111 H Street, but withdrew the application before any action was taken on it by the city planning commission.

I-J Credit Union Meeting Announced

Annual meeting of the I-J Federal Credit Union, composed of Independent-Journal employees, will be at 8 p.m. March 8 in the circulation office of the Independent-Journal Building.

Principal business will be election of directors and credit committeemen. The nominating committee has proposed Ernest H. Fingerlos, Ethel M. Schwab and Jean Day for two-year terms on the board of directors, and Berta Appel for a two-year term and William G. Schendel for a one-year term on the credit committee.

School Association Pitch Is Rejected By Board

The San Rafael Board of Education listened attentively last night about the services provided by the California School Boards Association, but didn't pay the dues.

After Robert W. Formhals, executive secretary of the association, gave his report, board members challenged the system whereby they are charged dues for both districts, elementary and high school.

Formhals didn't have the exact dues figure for San Rafael city schools, but Supt. John F. Plank said, "It's something like $900."

Board Member Herman L. Childress asked Formhals to determine what the dues would be if there were just single dues for the San Rafael Board of Education.

Formhals said the dues are based "on how much money you spend."

"Can we join as a high school district and not as an elementary district?" Childress asked.

"No," replied Formhals.

Sixty-five per cent of the school boards in the state, representing 96 per cent of the average daily attendance, are members of the association, Formhals said.

The association provides information and field services and serves as a lobbyist "for the needs of school boards," Formhals said. He noted that teachers are "effectively organized" and teacher organizations have the staffs to provide field services for teachers.

When it comes to negotiations with employees, "I feel the school board should not be at the negotiation table, ever," he said. Instead, the board should instruct the superintendent to name an administrator to meet with employees, Fromhals contended.

"Have you ever suggested hiring an outsider for negotiating?" asked Board Member Anita C. Strom.

"Some teacher groups have professional negotiators," Formhals said. "There's no reason why the board shouldn't get the best in the business to represent the board and the people, but they must be under control of the superintendent."

The board accepted the resignation of Robert Welch, a bus driver, for reasons of health, effective Jan 31. Welch, who suffers from diabetes, was involved in an accident on that date after mistakenly taking an overdose of his medicine.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

FOLLOW-UP STUDY — Approved an application of 50 per cent federal funds to undertake a four-year survey of 1967 high school graduates to determine what happens to graduates. The project would cost $19,375, and the district's share would be $9,687.

GUIDANCE PROJECT — Approved an application for full federal financing for an $18,750 experimental guidance study involving first grade pupils at five schools.

NEW PERSONNEL—Hired Per Engell of Denmark as a high school English teacher, effective next Aug. 29, at $9,245 a year; Mrs. Luella Wiese as primary grades teacher, also effective Aug. 29, at $9,245 a year; Peter Giamona as substitute bus driver, $2.31 an hour, and Mrs. Gladys Gilliland as part-time guidance clerk at Terra Linda High School, $2,136 a year.

RESIGNATION—Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Judith Augustine, elementary district teacher, currently on maternity leave.

MUSIC CONFERENCE — Granted Hugo Rinaldi, director of music, permission to attend the Music Educators' National Conference in Las Vegas, Nev., March 18-21, where he will be a participant.

SCHOOL CALENDAR — Adopted the school calendar for 1967-68, 178 school days, from Sept. 5 to June 14.

COLEMAN SCHOOL—Granted Filippo Construction Co. a 16-day extension of time on the six-classroom addition to Coleman School, which moves the completion date to Aug. 31, and emphasized the job must be done by Sept. 5. The board also approved a change order for the job, completion of the teachers' restroom and installation of a sink cabinet in the teachers' room at a cost of $1,139.

LIQOOR SALES—Received notice from the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control Department that Arden Mayfair Stores has applied for an off-sale general liquor license for its market at 340 Third Street, which is in the vicinity of San Rafael High School, but lodged no protest, noting that there are several stores in the Montecito Shopping Center selling liquor.

Hoover Opposed Ike's Election, Letter Reveals

LOS BANOS (UPI) — Former President Herbert Hoover opposed the election of Gen. D. Eisenhower on grounds it would advance "military controls of government," according to a 1952 letter on display here.

The letter was written by Hoover to then Sen. Robert Taft prior to the 1952 Republican National Convention. It belongs to William L. Jorgenson, manager of the Los Banos Chamber of Commerce, who traveled with the Taft campaign staff in 1952.

Hoover told Taft, then a candidate for the GOP Presidential nomination, that he should issue a strong statement condemning at the "disastrous" foreign policies of Harry S Truman and warning that the election of Eisenhower would "advance military controls" of government.

General Urges Counter Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff says he and the commanders of the other services feel the nation shouldn't lose any time in deploying a system to ward off missile attacks.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler said yesterday the Soviet Union probably has first-hand information on missile-killer systems that is superior to that possessed by the United States.

The Army general's remarks were made to newsmen after a closed session with the Senate Disarmament subcommittee.

Larkspur Planners Approve Bank Plans

1964 Rights Slayings Mean New Indictment

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) —A Mississippi sheriff, his chief deputy and the head of the nation's most militant Ku Klux Klan groups faced federal conspiracy charges today in the 1964 slayings of three young civil rights workers.

The three men were among 19 person arrested yesterday on indictments returned by a federal grand jury after a week of secret testimony.

All were charged with conspiring in a plot which led to the deaths of the three integrationists near Philadelphia, Miss., during Mississippi's "long hot summer" of 1964.

Among those arrested was Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., of Laurel, identified by the FBI as Imperial Wizard of the ultra-secret White Knights of the Klan. This was the first time Bowers had been charged in the case.

Bowers was one of 15 alleged Klansmen indicted last summer on federal conspiracy charges stemming from the Hattiesburg firebombing. As in the Philadelphia case, however, these earlier indictments were expected to be dismissed due to technicalities.

Bowers, 42, who operates a vending machine business in Laurel took the fifth amendment last year during a Congressional investigation of the Klan when asked if his group had ordered the "extermination" of Michael Schwerner, a white New Yorker and one of the three youths slain at Philadelphia. The other victims were Andrew Goodman, also a white New Yorker, and James Chaney, a Meridian Negro.

Most of the other defendants, including sheriff Lawrence Rainey of Neshoba County and his chief deputy, Cecil Price, were indicted on similar charges two years ago. The original indictments were thrown out in 1966 because of legal technicalities.

The new indictments were returned Monday by a 23 member biracial panel in Jackson, but were kept secret pending the arrests. The jury also returned an undisclosed number of new indictments in another major civil rights case —the firebomb death of Negro leader Vernon Dahmer near Hattiesburg last year.

The names of those cited in the Dahmer case were expected to be revealed shortly, possibly today.

More Air Cadets Admit Cheating

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Six more cadets admitted cheating and were kicked out of the Air Force Academy today, raising the toll to 46 future pilot-officers banished for classroom cribbing in the second scandal in two years.

More Air Force cadets were expected to be tagged as cheaters and officials said the number might reach 60.

"We're still holding with the figure of 60 implicated," said Lt. Col. Stewart Bachtelle, deputy academy information officer. "It might go either side of that, but we hope on the short side.

Poles, Czechs Sign 20-Year Bloc Treaty

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland and Czechoslovakia signed a new 20-year treaty of friendship and military assistance today directed against West Germany.

It was the first of a group of such treaties expected this month with which Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany are forging a new Communist sub-bloc dedicated in perpetuating the division of Germany.

The Polish-Czechoslovakia pact declared both nations' present frontiers inviolable and said Hitler's 1938 Munich agreement against Czechoslovakia was made with the threat of force and was never valid.

The treaty said the two nations would provide each other "all assistance including military" in the event of an attack by West German "militarist and revengist forces" or any of their allies.

Mine Is Found In Ships Hold

STOCKTON (UPI) — A U. S.-built anti-tank mine, apparently left over from a weapons shipment to Vietnam, was discovered in the hold of a freighter here, the Navy reported yesterday.

The mine was discovered under a pile of wood aboard the SS Harbor Hill, which arrived from Vietnam Monday night. The device had apparently been overlooked in the unloading process in Vietnam.

A Navy demolition team from the Concord Naval Weapons Station was rushed to the ship and disarmed the mine.

Airports Fogged In

Fog this morning closed the Marin County Airport at Novato and the flight line at Hamilton Air Force Base to visual flying. It burned off and both airports were opened to visual flying by mid-morning.

Home Occupation Code Redefined

What occupations for profit an individual may pursue in his home would be defined and controlled under a zoning ordinance amendment proposed last night to the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The amendment would draw the line at which a "home occupation" becomes a commercial enterprise, and would place emphaiss on whether the occupation was compatible with the residential character of the neighborhood.

The amendment was proposed by City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner under a mandate from the commission to proceed with reform and updating of the zoning ordinance. Last night's proposal was one of a series to be presented. When all have been acted on, the result will be virtually a new ordinance.

The commission set a public hearing for March 28 at 7:30 p.m. on the amendment.

If finally adopted, the amendment will replace the existing definition of home occupations in old-fashioned traditional terms with a clear-cut description of limitations.

These would specify that a home occupation be conducted entirely within a dwelling used primarily as a residence; that no person other than residents or domestic help be employed; that no alterations to the building or installation of mechancial or electrical equipment occur that would change the fire rating of the building; that it result in no use of utilities in excess of residential requirements; that there be no indoor or outdoor storage of equipment and supplies, and that the occupation increase vehicular traffic by no more than one vehicle at a time.

Providing they meet those requirements, permitted home occupations would include: accountant, architect, artist, attorney, author, beauty operator, dressmaking, insurance, millinery, preserving and home cooking, individual stringed instrument instruction, individual tutoring, and similar uses.

Basketball Queen Voting Being Held

Redwood High School students voted today for the "Basketball Queen" to be crowned at the "Basket Bail" Saturday in the new student center.

Candidates for the title are Phyllis Stolz, Sue Clark, Kathie Piro, Marty Slivka, Sue Flynn, and Tanya Golz.

Reno Diocese Bishop Named

RENO (AP)—The Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of Lansing, Mich., was named today to head the Reno Roman Catholic diocese, covering all of Nevada.

His selection by the Vatican was described as a "dark horse" by one Reno Catholic official. Usually a successor to Robert Joseph Dwyer, new archbishop of Portland, would have come from the West.

Bishop Green is a member of the ecumenical commission of the National Council of Catholic Bishops.

Building Permits

When it comes to negotiations with employees, "I feel the school board should not be at the negotiation table, ever," he said. Instead, the board should instruct the superintendent to name an administrator to meet with employees, Fromhals contended.

"Have you ever suggested hiring an outsider for negotiating?" asked Board Member Anita C. Strom.

"Some teacher groups have professional negotiators," Formhals said. "There's no reason why the board shouldn't get the best in the business to represent the board and the people, but they must be under control of the superintendent."

The board accepted the resignation of Robert Welch, a bus driver, for reasons of health, effective Jan 31. Welch, who suffers from diabetes, was involved in an accident on that date after mistakenly taking an overdose of his medicine.

Hoover Opposed Ike's Election, Letter Reveals

LOS BANOS (UPI) — Former President Herbert Hoover opposed the election of Gen. D. Eisenhower on grounds it would advance "military controls of government," according to a 1952 letter on display here.

The letter was written by Hoover to then Sen. Robert Taft prior to the 1952 Republican National Convention. It belongs to William L. Jorgenson, manager of the Los Banos Chamber of Commerce, who traveled with the Taft campaign staff in 1952.

Hoover told Taft, then a candidate for the GOP Presidential nomination, that he should issue a strong statement condemning at the "disastrous" foreign policies of Harry S Truman and warning that the election of Eisenhower would "advance military controls" of government.

1964 Rights Slayings Mean New Indictment

MERIDIAN, Miss. (UPI) —A Mississippi sheriff, his chief deputy and the head of the nation's most militant Ku Klux Klan groups faced federal conspiracy charges today in the 1964 slayings of three young civil rights workers.

The three men were among 19 person arrested yesterday on indictments returned by a federal grand jury after a week of secret testimony.

All were charged with conspiring in a plot which led to the deaths of the three integrationists near Philadelphia, Miss., during Mississippi's "long hot summer" of 1964.

Among those arrested was Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., of Laurel, identified by the FBI as Imperial Wizard of the ultra-secret White Knights of the Klan. This was the first time Bowers had been charged in the case.

Bowers was one of 15 alleged Klansmen indicted last summer on federal conspiracy charges stemming from the Hattiesburg firebombing. As in the Philadelphia case, however, these earlier indictments were expected to be dismissed due to technicalities.

Bowers, 42, who operates a vending machine business in Laurel took the fifth amendment last year during a Congressional investigation of the Klan when asked if his group had ordered the "extermination" of Michael Schwerner, a white New Yorker and one of the three youths slain at Philadelphia. The other victims were Andrew Goodman, also a white New Yorker, and James Chaney, a Meridian Negro.

Most of the other defendants, including sheriff Lawrence Rainey of Neshoba County and his chief deputy, Cecil Price, were indicted on similar charges two years ago. The original indictments were thrown out in 1966 because of legal technicalities.

The new indictments were returned Monday by a 23 member biracial panel in Jackson, but were kept secret pending the arrests. The jury also returned an undisclosed number of new indictments in another major civil rights case —the firebomb death of Negro leader Vernon Dahmer near Hattiesburg last year.

The names of those cited in the Dahmer case were expected to be revealed shortly, possibly today.

More Air Cadets Admit Cheating

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Six more cadets admitted cheating and were kicked out of the Air Force Academy today, raising the toll to 46 future pilot-officers banished for classroom cribbing in the second scandal in two years.

More Air Force cadets were expected to be tagged as cheaters and officials said the number might reach 60.

"We're still holding with the figure of 60 implicated," said Lt. Col. Stewart Bachtelle, deputy academy information officer. "It might go either side of that, but we hope on the short side.

Poles, Czechs Sign 20-Year Bloc Treaty

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland and Czechoslovakia signed a new 20-year treaty of friendship and military assistance today directed against West Germany.

It was the first of a group of such treaties expected this month with which Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany are forging a new Communist sub-bloc dedicated in perpetuating the division of Germany.

The Polish-Czechoslovakia pact declared both nations' present frontiers inviolable and said Hitler's 1938 Munich agreement against Czechoslovakia was made with the threat of force and was never valid.

The treaty said the two nations would provide each other "all assistance including military" in the event of an attack by West German "militarist and revengist forces" or any of their allies.

Mine Is Found In Ships Hold

STOCKTON (UPI) — A U. S.-built anti-tank mine, apparently left over from a weapons shipment to Vietnam, was discovered in the hold of a freighter here, the Navy reported yesterday.

The mine was discovered under a pile of wood aboard the SS Harbor Hill, which arrived from Vietnam Monday night. The device had apparently been overlooked in the unloading process in Vietnam.

A Navy demolition team from the Concord Naval Weapons Station was rushed to the ship and disarmed the mine.

Airports Fogged In

Fog this morning closed the Marin County Airport at Novato and the flight line at Hamilton Air Force Base to visual flying. It burned off and both airports were opened to visual flying by mid-morning.

Home Occupation Code Redefined

What occupations for profit an individual may pursue in his home would be defined and controlled under a zoning ordinance amendment proposed last night to the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The amendment would draw the line at which a "home occupation" becomes a commercial enterprise, and would place emphaiss on whether the occupation was compatible with the residential character of the neighborhood.

The amendment was proposed by City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner under a mandate from the commission to proceed with reform and updating of the zoning ordinance. Last night's proposal was one of a series to be presented. When all have been acted on, the result will be virtually a new ordinance.

The commission set a public hearing for March 28 at 7:30 p.m. on the amendment.

If finally adopted, the amendment will replace the existing definition of home occupations in old-fashioned traditional terms with a clear-cut description of limitations.

These would specify that a home occupation be conducted entirely within a dwelling used primarily as a residence; that no person other than residents or domestic help be employed; that no alterations to the building or installation of mechancial or electrical equipment occur that would change the fire rating of the building; that it result in no use of utilities in excess of residential requirements; that there be no indoor or outdoor storage of equipment and supplies, and that the occupation increase vehicular traffic by no more than one vehicle at a time.

Providing they meet those requirements, permitted home occupations would include: accountant, architect, artist, attorney, author, beauty operator, dressmaking, insurance, millinery, preserving and home cooking, individual stringed instrument instruction, individual tutoring, and similar uses.

Specifically prohibited as home occupations under the ordinance would be auto repair, barber shop, commercial beauty shop, carpentry work, dance instruction, dental offices, medical offices, photo developing, photo studio, private school, radio or television repair, upholstery, painting of vehicles, trailers or boats.

Redwood High School students voted today for the "Basketball Queen" to be crowned at the "Basket Ball" Saturday in the new student center.

Candidates for the title are Phyllis Stolz, Sue Clark, Kathie Piro, Marty Slivka, Sue Flynn, and Tanya Golz.

Reno Diocese Bishop Named

RENO (AP)—The Most Rev. Joseph Green, auxiliary bishop of Lansing, Mich., was named today to head the Reno Roman Catholic diocese, covering all of Nevada.

His selection by the Vatican was described as a "dark horse" by one Reno Catholic official. Usually a successor to Robert Joseph Dwyer, new archbishop of Portland, would have come from the West.

Bishop Green is a member of the ecumenical commission of the National Council of Catholic Bishops.

High School Renovation Is Accepted

The San Rafael Board of Education last night accepted rehabilitation of the main building of San Rafael High School as complete.

Principal Alan S. Ellsberg said, "We'll start to move in Monday."

The rehabilitation project, under way more than a year, included the auditorium, administrative offices, audio visual bookroom and 14 classrooms, as well as exterior repainting and rebuilding of the front steps.

The basic contract with Olsen-Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa totaled $609,840, including change orders, and the total project cost $746,822, reported Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte.

The work included complete removal and replacement of interior finishes, structural and fine and panic improvements, he said.

Aside from the basic contract, other expenditures were for auditorium seating, stage lighting, students' chairs and desks office chairs, file cabinets, desks, tables, carpeting, window caulking, and office partitions.

Employment Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — There were 7.2 million employed Californians and only 419,000 unemployed in January, a record for the month, the State Employment Department reported Tuesday.

Nursery School's Request Studied

The San Rafael Cooperative Nursery School asked the San Rafael Board of Education last night if it could move into the former administration building at San Rafael High School.

The building now houses classes, which will soon move back into the main building, now that rehabilitation has been completed.

Board members agreed to await a recommendation from Supt. John F. Plank on use of the building before making any decision.

Plank said "total needs" of the district will have to be considered; those that are "directly educational" and "additional maintenance space."

The building also will have to be considered in regard to the Field Act, which sets earthquake-resistant standards, he said. (It was built after the Field Act became law.)

The nursesy school's bid came in a letter from Jenny White Marshall, president, and Inga Brower, building chairman. They said the building would lend itself to observation and participation by high school students in the nursery school program.

"We would be happy to contribute our entire building fund, approximately $6,000, and to discuss any other financial arrangements," they wrote. "Our goal is to be self-supporting to the highest degree possible, and we would continue to work toward that end."

A letter to the board from attorney John G. Buresh, challenging legality of turning over the building to the co-operative nursery school, was not read at the meeting.

The school is in a "temporary" building on the San Rafael High School grounds where it has been for 14 years. A bid last spring for the city schools to erect a building for it was turned down after a challenge by Buresh. Last November, the co-operative applied for a permit for use of a residence at 111 H Street, but withdrew the application before any action was taken on it by the city planning commission.

I-J Credit Union Meeting Announced

Annual meeting of the I-J Federal Credit Union, composed of Independent-Journal employees, will be at 8 p.m. March 8 in the circulation office of the Independent-Journal Building.

Principal business will be election of directors and credit committeemen. The nominating committee has proposed Ernest H. Fingerlos, Ethel M. Schwab and Jean Day for two-year terms on the board of directors, and Berta Appel for a two-year term and William G. Schendel for a one-year term on the credit committee.

School Association Pitch Is Rejected By Board

The San Rafael Board of Education listened attentively last night about the services provided by the California School Boards Association, but didn't pay the dues.

After Robert W. Formhals, executive secretary of the association, gave his report, board members challenged the system whereby they are charged dues for both districts, elementary and high school.

Formhals didn't have the exact dues figure for San Rafael city schools, but Supt. John F. Plank said, "It's something like $900."

Board Member Herman L. Childress asked Formhals to determine what the dues would be if there were just single dues for the San Rafael Board of Education.

Formhals said the dues are based "on how much money you spend."

"Can we join as a high school district and not as an elementary district?" Childress asked.

"No," replied Formhals.

Sixty-five per cent of the school boards in the state, representing 96 per cent of the average daily attendance, are members of the association, Formhals said.

The association provides information and field services and serves as a lobbyist "for the needs of school boards," Formhals said. He noted that teachers are "effectively organized" and teacher organizations have the staffs to provide field services for teachers.

When it comes to negotiations with employees, "I feel the school board should not be at the negotiation table, ever," he said. Instead, the board should instruct the superintendent to name an administrator to meet with employees, Fromhals contended.

"Have you ever suggested hiring an outsider for negotiating?" asked Board Member Anita C. Strom.

"Some teacher groups have professional negotiators," Formhals said. "There's no reason why the board shouldn't get the best in the business to represent the board and the people, but they must be under control of the superintendent."

The board accepted the resignation of Robert Welch, a bus driver, for reasons of health, effective Jan 31. Welch, who suffers from diabetes, was involved in an accident on that date after mistakenly taking an overdose of his medicine.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 1, the 60th day of 1967 with 305 to follow.

The moon is between its full stage and last quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

British actor David Niven was born on this day in 1910.

On this day in history:

In 1781, the American colonies adopted the Articles of Confederation, paving the way for federal union.

In 1872, a civil rights act provided for Negroes to serve on juries and guaranteed them equal rights in public places.

A thought for the day—English poet George Herbert once wrote: "Words are women, deeds are men."

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Be Ready With The Odds Fast After Losing A Slam Contract

When you've gone down at a cold slam contract don't sit still and let your partner do all the talking.

Jump right in with a statement of how the odds favored your line of play.

Opening lead — ♥ J

South took the ace of hearts and led out five rounds of trumps to encourage a club discard.

When nobody obliged, declarer cashed the king of diamonds, and led a club to the ace, cashed the ace of diamonds and returned a club.

SOUTH DOWN ONE

West took two club tricks, and South was down one.

South quickly pointed out that he would have made the slam if the four missing clubs had broken evenly or if West had started with a singleton king or queen.

"The odds were two to one in my favor," South summed it up.

South would have had nothing to apologize for if his play had been as accurate as his mathematics. He should not have relied solely on the clubs.

OTHER SUIT

South should take the king of diamonds at the second trick. He gets to dummy with the ten of spades, discards a club on the ace of diamonds and ruffs a diamond.

If both opponents follow suit, South knows that the diamonds will break 4-3.

South can then ruff the king of hearts in dummy to ruff another diamond.

Then he draws trumps and gets to dummy with the ace of clubs to discard a second club on dummy's last diamond.

He loses only one club trick.

If either opponent shows out on the third round of diamonds, South can abandon the suit.

He draws trumps and falls back on the clubs.

This gives him two lines of play instead of just one.

There is a very slight risk that an opponent will ruff the first or second diamond, but this is so slight that it can be disregarded.

DAILY QUESTION

As a dealer, you hold:

♥ A
♦ A 8 7 4 3
♣ A 9 8 5 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond. Three aces may not be worth an opening bid when you have balanced distribution, but they are certainly good enough when you have two five-card suits.

Check Suspects Held After Police Alerted

"San Anselmo police, with the aid of the California Highway Patrol, yesterday arrested a San Francisco woman and an Oakland man shortly after an attempt was made to cash a stolen $144.26 check at Wells Fargo Bank in San Anselmo.

Donna Mae Minosky, 22, also known as Patricia York and Pauline Hayward, of San Francisco, and Leroy Bazile, 19, of Oakland, were held today in Marin County Jail in lieu of $4,400 bail each.

Miss Minosky was charged with forgery, conspiracy to commit forgery and possession of stolen checks. Bazile was charged with conspiracy.

Police said a woman tried to cash a check stolen from Duplicating Associates of San Francisco about 1:15 p.m. yesterday at Wells Fargo Bank, and a clerk recognized her as a woman who had cashed a $145.86 check stolen from Universal Classroom, Inc., of Oakland on Feb. 15 at the same bank.

The clerk went to call police. The woman fled but left the check behind. Bank employees got the license number of the white Lincoln Continental the woman was driving, and San Anselmo police put out an all-points bulletin to stop the car.

About 2 p.m. a California Highway Patrol officer stopped the car on Highway 101 near Puerto Suello Hill, and Capt. Chester C. Orr of San anselmo policee arrested Miss Minosky and Bazile.

Old House Used For Fire Drill

San Anselmo firemen yesterday burned down an old house belonging to Mrs. Gertrude E. Clisham at 22 South Grove Hill Avenue, as a drill at the owner's request.

The fire, which lasted about three hours, was out by 11:30 a.m.

Frenchmen were among Indiana's first settlers.

NEW OFFICER—Paul E. DeMartini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. DeMartini of 157 Crescent Road, San Anselmo, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force on graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He has been assigned to Tyndall AFB, Fla.

More than 7.5 million additional jobs will be available by 1970, says the U.S. Department of Labor.

Teen Dance Hall Plea Sparks Police Critics

The San Rafael Police Department was sharply criticized last night by city planning commissioners for its unfailing opposition to every proposal for a teen-age dance hall in the city.

The commissioners' remarks were sparked by a request to turn a former factory at 502 Irwin Street into such a dance hall. The application was submitted by Ernest Ongaro, owner of the property, on behalf of operator Richard Conn.

The matter was set for a public hearing March 14, after City Planner Herbert G. Hotchner advised the commission that the police department and other interested parties were not present to offer their views because they expected a hearing to be scheduled.

Carl S. Brown, acting chairman in the absence of Fred C. Robbins Jr., remarked dryly, "The police department will always object to these things."

Commissioner Jorgen V. Lunding said, "We should have facilities for these young people, but every time this comes up the police chief is always against it."

Commissioner Pat Hetherton suggested a committee be formed to "look into the whole area of youth entertainment." He said, "There seems to be a need for it."

Commissioner Daniel L. Connell said, "We ought to go to the police chief and say, 'What kind of thing would you approve of."

Hotchner told the commissioners his staff was working with the police department to come up with a set of criteria for a dance center.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

LANDSCAPE RULE — Recommended to the city council a building code change to let the building inspector withhold an occupancy permit when landscaping required under a zoning action has not been completed Commissioner Brown dissented.

ANTENNA — Approved an application by Mary and R. S. Warren for a steel, crank-up antenna tower at 23 Jewell Street, with the condition that it be lowered to its 21-foot minimum height when not in use. It has a maximum height of 54 feet.

Masouredis of 9 De Anza Way, San Rafael, an associate professor at University of California Medical Center, has been appointed executive director of the Milwaukee Blood Center and a professor of medicine at Marquette University in Milwaukee. ## Contracts Soar On Farm Land

The area of Marin farm land going under agricultural preserve contracts is soaring.

Deadline for recording the 10-year, exclusive farm use contracts is noon next Monday, but already about 50 land owners have put a total 26,886 acres under contract, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today.

Last year, only 6,000 acres had been put under contract prior to the first Monday in March lien date.

The contract allows the assessor to evaluate the land with more emphasis on use than on potential sales value.

Senior Citizens To Organize An Orchestra

An orchestra comprising retired Marin residents will be formed by Marin Senior Association, the association announced today.

The group asked retired persons who can play musical instruments to attend the association's next meeting at 10:45 a.m., March 10 at the San Rafael recreation center.

Philip Gaglioni, now retired in Marin and formerly with the Silver String Orchestra of San Francisco, will help form the orchestra.

A nationwide survey for the same period showed the average cost of sick leave per employee in manufacturing industries was $43. In non-manufacturing industires, the average cost per employee was $84.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMA

They Shaved His Head To Make Him Look Old

What does it take for a high school student to look like William Jennings Bryan (or "Matthew Brady," as he is called in a stage play)?

Novato student Dave Ehreth, 18, went under the shears to get a bald pate and the distinguished look of Matthew Harrison Brady, the central figure he plays in "Inherit the Wind" presented this week by the Novato High School Drama Department.

"Hopefully, this — in addition to using makeup — will help him to age convincingly from the age of 18 to 65," said Harvey J. Susser, department chairman and director of the play, which will begin a six-performance run at the school tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.

Performances will be given Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays through March 11 in the high school's gymnasium.

Ehreth plays the role of the famous advocate in the play which is based on the 1925 "Monkey Trial" of John T. Scopes, arrested for teaching Darwin's theory of the descent of man.

In the part of the defense attorney (Clarence Darrow, or "Henry Drummond") will be Alan Fletcher.

The only professional in the cast is "Bunky," an 18-inch monkey from San Francisco Zoo. He has played the same role in three similar productions.

Others taking part include: Dannis Gribbin, Edie Martinelli, Thad Marks, Rich Heilman, Kathy Matosich, Craig Keener, Joe Hernandez, Mike Jackson, Terri Loegering, Fred Gebhart, Ginny Garwood, Rich Secrist, Jim Steele, Roxane Wilkinson, Sandy Henry, Sue Goehring Steve Loegering, Mark Loegering, Dan Sill, Gene Smith, J. ## San Domenico Group To Sing Tomorrow

Board Cool Toward Fire Station Lease

Marin County supervisors yesterday balked at endorsing a 20-year lease with the Kentfield Fire District for space in the new Kentfield Fire Station for a sheriff's substation.

Supervisors earlier turned down a district request for a direct grant of fund to assist with station construction, and said they might consider a lease. But a majority of the board yesterday said it would not want to approve any agreement running more than five years. They asked district directors to consider this.

The district would lease 600 square feet to the county for $100 to $150 a month. Supervisor John F. McInnis said the maximum figure over 20 years would come out of $36,000. He declared this was too large in light of the changes that could occur in 20 years.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen backed the lease idea strongly, but confessed that the 20 years bothered him.

County administrator Alan Bruce recommended that the lease proposal be tabled and he be authorized to study the possibility of contracting for police coverage in the Kentfield area with the City of Larkspur.

Kettenhofen called this an invasion of the field of policy determination, and asked Bruce pointedly if the recommendation would be changed. Bruce urged that the recommendation only be taken as something indicating that there were other alternatives.

The Larkspur contract idea was not discussed further. The lease, possibly for a shorter term, is to be discussed again next week.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

ROSS ANNEXATION — Set a public hearing for 3 p.m., March 28 on annexation of Ross to the Corte Madera Flood Control Zone.

LEGISLATION — Endorsed legislation that would provide for the five-year, gradual phase-out of the business inventory tax in California.

PUBLICATION — Directed County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel not to use legal advertising columns of newspapers to list changes in assessed valuation. The assessor is required to give notice by mail or by legal advertising and can use both methods. The advertising would cost $16,000 a year. Mailed notices cost $5,300 a year.

STATE BOARD — Asked appointment of San Rafael realty man Benjamin R. Ostlind to the California Aeronautics board.

BACK TAXES — Agreed that a private collection agency should be hired to try to collect $52,887 due in back taxes. This was at the suggestion of McInnis.

COOLING — Authorized $1,200 to improve the air conditioning in Juvenile Hall.

BOLINAS LAGOON — Postponed discussion of the future of Bolinas Lagoon and the Harbor District Master Plan, pending further study by a joint planning commission-harbor district board committee.

ELECTRICAL CODE — Approved amendments and revisions in the county electrical code to bring it in line with the code to bring it in line with the adopt. Chief building inspector Hans J. Berge said that, with city adoption, Marin will be one of the few counties in the United States with a uniform electrical code in both incorporated and unincorporated areas.

FOR BUILDERS Learned from Planning Dir. Paul C. Zucker that a development coordinating commission will go into operation this month, providing builders and developers' group meetings with staffs of various county departments on processing of plans and permits.

GRAND JURY COSTS — Approved transfer of $2,500 from reserves to cover jury fees and transcribing costs for the 1966 grand jury.

NEW EMPLOYEES — Hired Herbert A. Decker and Frank A. Swift, at $590 a month each, as junior auditor appraisers; Susan J. Moore at $380 as switchboard operator in Community Mental Health Services, and Jean E. Danz at $380, as deputy clerk in Municipal Court.

CLAIM — Denied the claim for $120,000 by V. E. Asbell of 30 Bret Harte Road, San Rafael, who said work done either by the county or the San Rafael Sanitation District caused undermining of his property.

CONTRACT — Awarded $13,895 contract to B & J Con-Structures of Santa Rosa to repair the washed-out bridge at the south end of Tomales Bay. The firm lowest of 10 bidders.

FEES — Asked review of all fees charged on applications for various permits. This was at suggestion of Kettenhofen, who declared that the county "was in a joint venture with developers" and the cost of processing applications should be split 50-50. Other supervisors did not necessarily agree with this, but agreed to a study.

OLEMA ZONING — Agreed to make the commercial zoning in Olema more restrictive, making most uses subject to use permit. An ordinance to effect the change will include changing the one-acre Ralph P. Sommer property at Bear Valley Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from agricultural to the restrictive commercial zone.

Adjourned at 4:40 p.m.

Funeral Burglar Racket Smashed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $400-a-week burglary of homes while the familes were away attending funerals caused the detention today of two brothers, one ex-convict.

Donald D. Williams, 32, released from prison last September after serving seven years for robbery, was arrested yesterday in the Mission District. Police said they found three shipping bags at his home filled with transistor radios, wristwatches, jewelry and cameras.

His brother, Robert A. Williams, 30, of Oakland was taken into custody Monday. Inspectors Fotea Gilford and Richard Miller said the two had averaged $400 a week as "funeral burglars."

Both were held for investigation of burglary.

Speech Contest Winner Listed

Paula Von Loewenfeldt of San Rafael, Marin Catholic High School senior, last night won Mill Valley Lions Club's annual student speakers contest.

Paula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Von Loewenfeldt of 280 Forbes Avenue, will compete in the Southern Marin Contest March 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Mill Valley Golf clubhouse. Topic for the 1967 contest is "Peace is Attainable."

Runner-up was Vicki Stephens, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Dean T. Stephens of Sausalito, a sophomore at Tamalpais High School.

Unruh To Take After Bugging

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation "intended to put a stop to unethical industrial espionage and spying operations in California" will be introduced by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

The Inglewood Democrat said yesterday the legislation would strengthen the state's laws against wiretapping and other forms of electronic eavesdropping.

"These tiny devices may be suitable for international espionage," he said, "but they are utterly inconsistent with life in a free and open society such as ours."

Loan Companies Swindler Guilty

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Norman Humphrey Noel, Pomona businessman accused of bilking loan company investors out of an estimated $700,000 to $1.5 million, has pleaded guilty to charges of grand theft.

Municipal Judge Ercih Auerbach ordered Noel yesterday to appear March 27 in Pomona Superior Court for probation hearing and sentencing.

District attorney's investigators said Noel, while operating the now-defunct Lisco Corp., accepted loans on trust deeds at 10 per cent interest while charging a 10 per cent finders' fee to borrowers.

The complaint further alleged that Noel, between 1962 and December, 1966, also sold the same trust deeds to various persons, employed forged title policies and used forged reconveyances.

Ordinance Passed On Design Review

An ordinance establishing a design review board was adopted by the San Anselmo City Council last night.

The council will name seven members to the board before the ordinance take seffect in 30 days.

The design review board will rule on all improvements requiring building permits, except for one-family dwellings. Appeals from the board's rulings can be taken to the council.

The appeal provisions brought a negative vote on the ordinance from Mayor John M. Reichmuth. "It's a good idea," Reichmuth said, "but you've made the city council the final judge of architectural taste in San Anselmo."

The council would not rule on taste, but on the board's application of the ordinance, answered James Reed, chairman of the Congress for Community Progress, which was instrumental in passage of the ordinance.

Reichmuth was alone in his objection as the ordinance passed 4-1.

The council tossed a proposed condemnation back to the persons who asked for it. Oak Associates, a land development company, had asked for condemnation and destruction of a two-story shack on Oak Avenue, contending it had been illegally built and expanded and was illegally used as living quarters although it had no sanitary facilities.

Councilmen seemed ready to proceed with condemnation until the man who built the shack, Reagan O'Brien, gave his side of the story. O'Brien said the building was used only as an amateur radio center, and had never been lived in. The last addition, he said, was made seven years ago.

The complainants said the shack had been built astride property lines of two lots, but O'Brien said it was entirely on his property.

"If Oak Associates is so concerned" about the shack, Councilman Duane C. Ragan said, "let them prove it's on their property."

The council told City Atty. John G. Buresh to advise Oak Associates that the next step, if any, was up to them.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

APPRAISAL DELAYED — Decided against an appraisal of two downtown lots being considered as city parking sites. Cost estimates based on assessor's figures indicate that one site, between City Hall and Magnolia Avenue, is worth $24,000, and the other, in the 100 block of Tunstead Avenue, $17,500. The council expressed interest primarily in the Magnolia Avenue site, and decided to consider purchase during budget discussions later this year.

REFUSE REPORT — Heard from Marin County Health Department that daily pickup of refuse from restaurants is not needed with modern disposal equipment. City ordinance now requires such daily pickups.

TREE TRIMMING — Asked Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell for an estimate on the cost of removing and trimming trees causing sidewalk damage on Tamalpais Avenue, and a survey of such trees throughout the city.

PARKING LIMIT — Set a two-hour parking limit from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day on a parking lot next to the city tennis courts on Sonoma Avenue.

YULE POLICY — Asked the chamber of commerce for cost figures for hiring a private firm to put up Christmas decorations. The city spent $1,660 for last year's decorations, including man-hours and use of city equipment.

PAINT BID — Accepted the $359 low bid of Kunst Painting Contractors of San Rafael to paint the council chamber. Other bids were $365 by Giampolini and Company of San Rafael and $387 by Mazza Painting Company of San Rafael.

BUILDING CODE — Passed a resolution declaring the city's building code the equivalent of the uniform building code.

SIMPLE REPORTS — Passed a resolution asking the state to simplify the reports and paperwork involved in city applications for gasoline tax funds allocations.

DELAYS ACTION — Deferred action on a request by Andrew Klapak to limit parking on Camino de Herrera. Councilmen will make an on-the-spot check of the street.

IMPROVEMENTS — Accepted improvements for White Subdivision, except for drainage.

PAYMENT APPROVED — Approved payment to Holtzinger Brothers for Sonoma Avenue improvements.

Ranch Property Sale Is Slated

The Fagundes ranch west of Highway 101 at Lucas Valley, planned for development as a shopping center, has been foreclosed and will come up for a $1,886,000 trustees sale March 17 at the county courthouse.

First Charter Financial Corp., trustee under a deed of trust executed by Jack H. Bennett and Dell M. Dalick, Sausalito developers, and Rachmil Goldenberg and Republic Development Inc., announced the sale yesterday.

Mallick filed a $23 million damage suit against First Charter and American Savings and Loan Association of California, last November, charging fraud and deceit over the ranch deal.

Lucas Valley Annex Sought By San Rafael

The City of San Rafael wants to annex 106 acres at the northwest corner of Highway 101 and Lucas Valley Road.

The proposed annexation is to be considered by the Local Agency Formation Commission April 6. The property is owned by Julia Sequera and Manuel Gonsalves.

The commission last year turned down application for annexation on the south side of Lucas Valley Road after Terra Linda and Marinwood residents claimed the city intended to intensify the commercial use proposed on the land.

The application for the 106 acres on the north side of Lucas Valley Road said there would be no change in the county's present planned community zone on the property.

Vandals Destroy Radio Antennas

Vandals last night broke nine radio antennas off cars on Woodbine Drive and Eldridge Avenue in Mill Valley, police reported.

Bartlett T. Grimes, 70 Woodbine, reported antennas were snapped off both of his cars, parked in front of his house. Raymond J. Ham, 144 Woodbine, said the antenna was broken off his car while it was parked on the street near his home.

Hubert James Jr., 425 Eldridge, reported two antennas broken while his car was parked on the street. Mrs. Betty Bergquist, 268 Eldridge, preported her antenna broken while her car was in her driveway. Antennas were broken on both cars of the Mordant family at 376 Eldridge. For the third time in recent weeks, the antenna was broken off a car at the Kresbset home, 61 Woodbine.

Six antennas were found Monday on Woodbine, police said.

Firemen Administer Oxygen To Victim

Philip R. Gruen, 59, of 212 Marin Street, San Rafael, was admitted to Marin General Hospital in fair condition today after apparently suffering a heart attack in his home.

Oxygen was administered by San Rafael firemen in the home shortly after 7:30 a.m.

ON FBI LIST — Clyde Edward Laws has been added to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's list of "Ten Most Wanted" fugitives. Laws, who has a criminal record dating back to 1945, allegedly shot a Maryland policeman after a supermarket robbery Feb. 8.

Hub Council Approves Slide Area Projects

Action to prevent further slides in two hillside areas was authorized last night by the San Anselmo City Council.

Public Works Director Charles R. Leitzell was told to proceed with grading and seeding on property at 21 Loma Robles Drive to provide drainage and prevent damage to property below. The property owners will be billed for the work.

A two-story house stands on the Loma Robles property, which is part of the Red Hill slope but some distance west of the area where four apartment building collapsed in storm-caused slides in January.

Leitzell was also authorized to hire Cooper-Clark Associates Foundation Engineers of Novato to make test borings on and around a slide area at 90 Woodside Avenue, to determine what slide-preventing action will work best. The council put a $1,300 maximum on the agreement with Cooper-Clark.

Councilmen were plainly irritated by the failure of owners of the Loma Robles Drive lots to attend the meeting, and told City Atty. John G. Buresh to "issue a summons" to Norman T. Gilroy of Larkspur to appear at the next council meeting.

Gilroy is not an owner of the property but reportedly represents at least some of the owners. Title to the property is confused, with Pacific Coast Title Co. holding title in escrow for an unnamed client. Gilroy was formerly an owner.

Councilmen said the owners had promised to grade the property last summer, but did not do so.

The 90 Woodside Avenue property is where the Edward Salza house was abandoned and finally burned at Salza's request after slides. Dec. 26 made the house too dangerous to occupy. Underground water is blamed for the slippage.

Group To Seek New Members

Homestead Valley Improvement Club directors last night announced a membership drive will start March 11.

Membership chairman Susanna Lowry estimated there were 750 families in the community, of whom about 200 belong to the club.

Directors appointed Mrs. Eldon Beck to head a group to gather information on a proposal to form a recreation district in the valley.

Burglars Hit A Model Home

Burglars entered an Eichler Corp. model home at 1129 Idylberry Road, Marinwood, and stole five chairs, sheriff's officers said today.

Deputies said entry apparently was by using a pass key. The loss was reported by Katherine H. Munson, sales agent for Eichler Corp.

Joe Wingo Dillard of 165 Lark Lane, Tamalpais Valley, told deputies someone stole $430 worth of camera equipment from his station wagon, parked at home last Saturday.

Gregory Hurt of 1188 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, reported automobile stereophonic set, a tachometer and a set of tools, total value estimated at $200, was taken from his locked car parked at home Monday. A window was pried, he reported.

NOVATO SEEKING NEW INSPIRATION FOR SEAL

Novato will have some kind of city seal in 60 days, the city council promised last night.

It may, however, be the same design that was adopted in March, 1966, then discarded because it showed an ocean around Mount Burdell, fir trees on the mountain, teepees for Indians who never used them, and was too complicated besides.

Last night Councilman Douglas M. Merrill called for action on adopting a seal. He then offered to work on one, if the council would appoint William Carpenter to help him.

His fellow councilmen readily agreed to this and to Merrill's self-imposed time limit of 60 days.

Stolen Bicycle Quickly Recovered

About 10 minutes after a bicycle was reported stolen from in front of the Corte Madera Pharmacy at 18 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, yesterday, police found a 5-year-old boy riding it down Willow Avenue.

Mark D. Cook of 323 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, reported the theft of his bike to police at 3:30 p.m.

Register Looted

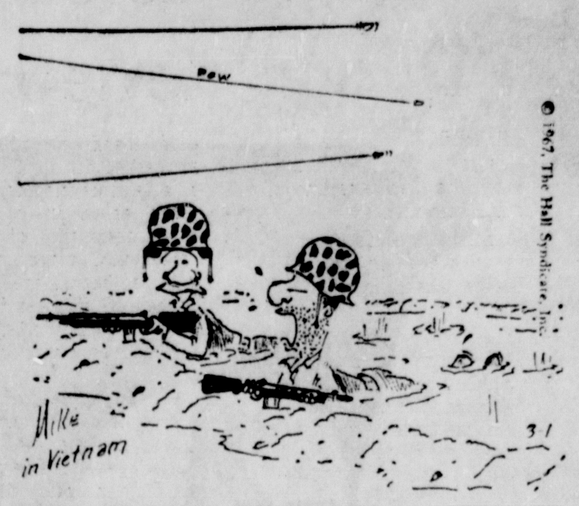
WITH SGT. MIKE By Hodgson



"Of course, I know what I'm doing . . . Now you rush the machine gun, and I'll lay down a base of fire."

Every Litter Bit Hurts In Novato

The Novato City Council last night decided to do something about street litter.

After discussing the litter problem, particularly on streets near Novato High School, the council authorized Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, to get a quotation from Novato Disposal Service on the cost of picking up and emptying street litter cans.

Coleman said a two-man city crew empties the cans on Grant Avenue, but it would cost an additional $500 a year for them to make pickups on South Novato Boulevard near the high school, where residents complained about scattered debris. The council thought it might be cheaper to contract with the disposal service.

The Novato City Council Also:

TELEVISION — Named councilmen Harley McAskill and M. E. Babe Silva to a committee to review specifications of the applications for television antenna service companies, to report to the council within 30 days if possible.

PLANNING — Approved the tentative map of the Novato Auto Mart south of Novato Creek and east of Highway 101; introduced ordinances rezoning from residential to commercial the northwest corner of Tamalpais Avenue and Novato Boulevard for Hoytt Enterprises and the De Borba property on South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue, and continued indefinitely the request of Smith and Akers for rezoning from residential to professional of the northwest corner of Hill Road and Diablo Avenue.

TRAINING — Agreed to pay $840 to send police officers to the California Peace Officers Training Academy.

MEETING — Agreed to discuss board planning ideas with the planning commission at a dinner meeting on March 8 at a place to be selected.

INVITATIONS — Voted to continue for another six months sending invitations to voters asking them to attend the city council meetings.

SUBDIVISIONS — Accepted Forest Park unit 8 and San Marin unit 2 as completed.

LANDSCAPING — Asked Coleman to check with the State Division of Highways to see whether it could plant some trees given by the Novato Civic Foundation at the Highway 37 interchange.

CARNIVAL — Granted Novato Fair merchants a permit for a Fun Fair Shows carnival at the Novato Fair Shopping Center March 8-12.

GAS TAX— Adopted a resolution asking that changes in the allocation of state gasoline tax money approved by the league of California cities be adopted by the legislature. The basic changes would eliminate matching funds by cities and provide that funds could accumulate for five years.

CIVIC CENTER — Adjourned to 8 p.m. next Tuesday for public hearing on selection of Civic Center site.

Could Novato Eliminate Lawyer Job?

Mrs. Betty Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, Novato, proposed last night that Novato do away with the position of city attorney.

The city could get its legal advice from the county counsel, as school districts do, she suggested. It would be cheaper, she claimed.

She made her proposal after objecting to increasing the fee for City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. from $25 to $30 an hour, as authorized by the council two weeks ago. This, she contended, should come up at budget time.

There is no legal provision for a county counsel to serve as city attorney.

Reed Plans To Leave Reagan Post

Thomas C. Reed, 32, of Ross will resign from his $20,000 per year job as appointments secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan, but another Marin Republican is in line to take over the job.

Paul R. Haerle, 35, San Rafael attorney, started this morning as assistant to Reed at $16,500 per year. Haerle would be the logical successor to Reed when the latter quits in about a month.

Reed, who heads a land investment and development firm in San Rafael, said he plans to return to private business about the end of March. He said he took over the state post on a temporary basis and never intended to remain permanently. Reed was northern California campaign chairman for Regan last year.

Haerle was Marin County chairman for Reagan. He intende to move to Sacramento with his family in June.

Reed Trustees Review Budget

Trustees of Reed School District made no major change after reviewing the district's working budget of $1,689,078 for next fiscal year in a special meeting yesterday.

The budget contains no provision for salary raises. Supt. H. Joseph Edgington said these will probably be added in mid-summer. The final budget must be adopted in August.

The board approved continuance of a federally supported guidance and counseling project at De Mar School, supervised by psychologist Mrs. Gail Cox and counselor Harold B. Bickel.

CORAL SEA CREWMAN HOME

Fireman Gary W. Dunn of 531 Browning Street, Tamalpais Valley, a member of the crew of the aircraft carrier Coral Sea, recently in action off the coast of North Vietnam, donned his civvies while his sister, Haroldine, held his uniform on a weekend visit home. The Coral Sea returned to Alameda Thursday after 109 days of 24-hour operation off Vietnam, during which planes from her deck carried out more than 3,600 sorties. The ship will receive new equipment and undergo repairs and refurbishing where needed.

Reagan Shuts Door On Romney Primary

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan bids for more national political exposure today, determined to keep Michigan Gov. George Romney or anyone else out of California's 1968 Republican presidential primary.

The freshman GOP governor told newsmen yesterday he intends to enter the June primary himself, as a favorite son presidential candidate but not as an outright contender for the presidency. He said he preferred that Romney and other potential contenders stay out of his state.

Reagan's goal: Party unity and to assure the nation's most populous state a policy making voice at next year's national convention.

Reagan made the statement as he began preparing for some well-publicized political events in Washington, including a fund raising dinner tonight at which Romney will also speak.

And next week, Reagan flies to Washington again for a speech at the Gridiron Club dinner and meetings with congressmen. He'll share the Gridiron platform with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-NY.

Some California Republicans have speculated "lightning could strike" Reagan if there was a convention deadlock, and he might walk away with the presidential nomination.

Asked about that, he said "no, I've been through enough thunderstorms around here without wanting lightning to strike."

The governor, however, has declined to make a statement irrevocably removing himself from contention.

Reagan is scheduled to return to Sacramento tomorrow to resume debate over his budget and prepare a tax program for introduction "early next week."

Reagan said he is abandoning plans for tuition at the University of California and state colleges next year.

Reagan said that his budget cuts still apply to higher education as well as other state operations.

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post, who has criticized Reagan's budget cuts, agreed with the governor yesterday that California's financial picture could be grim if more than $600 million in new taxes aren't collected next year.

Space Age Vs. The Old West

WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP) — The Old West and the Space Age were only yards apart as Navajos watched demonstrations of a rocket belt designed to carry astronauts while on the moon.

The demonstration, on the Navajo Reservation northwest of Winslow, was performed by Textron-Bell Aerosystems.

One of the test employees was carried 115 yards by the belt and another flew up and over a butte.

Assessment Appeals Board Created, $100 Pay Voted

Marin County supervisors voted yesterday to create a three-member assessment appeals board, and set a salary of $100 per meeting for members.

A report by County Administrator Alan Bruce had recommended $75 per meeting.

The vote for the higher wage was 3 to 2, Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Thomas T. Storer dissenting.

Supervisors Peter H. Behr, Ernest N. Kettenhofen and John F. McInnis argued that $100 salary would better attract qualified applicants.

Creation of the board, which would replace the supervisors as an equalization board, was made possible under a state ballot proposition approved by voters last November.

The board will meet once a week for as long as necessary to handle appeals, with the operation adding about $10,500 to next year's budget. This figure is a drop from $30,000 suggested in an original report presented last week by Bruce. The supervisors rejected this as too high.

As to the wage issue, Behr, leading the move for a higher figure, said attorneys, certified public accountants and appraisers sought for the board would not accept $75 per day.

Gnoss countered he knew "dozens" of persons, mostly retired businessmen, who would be pleased to serve at the lower wage.

The adjusted salary includes a monthly ceiling of $400 and an annual limit of $3,500.

The supervisors directed County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to draw an ordinance creating the board and Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott to begin screening candidates for it.

When Brazil recently played an international soccer tournament, the sale of transistor radios soared and business ground to a halt.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
SECOND SECTION Wed., March 1, 1967 19

A MODERN version of Mark Twain's Mississippi meal is this sole stuffed with cheese and shrimp. Shredded Gruyere cheese, sherry and shrimp are spooned on prepared sole fillets, then baked until lightly browned. Shrimp-Stuffed Sole A La Twain makes six servings.

Mississippi Dish— Shrimp-Stuffed Sole

Mississippi River lore — ornate show boats, colorful personalitites, and feasts on fish at shoreline cities — weaves throughout the works and musings of Mark Twain.

The great American humorist's four years as a river pilot constituted, by his own admission, a brief but valued education. "I got personally and familiarly acquainted with all the different types of human nature that are to be found in fiction, biography, and history."

Navigation on "this remarkable river," as Twain called it, was hazardous, romantic, mysterious, yet highly profitable. It helped spread regional culture, including cookery, throughout the great mid-western river basin.

In his "Life On The Mississippi," Twain limns such regional cooking, much of it fish-based. "We had dinner on a ground-veranda overlooking the wide and blue Lake Pontchartrian," he wrote. "The chief dish was a renowned fish called pompano, stuffed with shrimp."

Shredded Gruyere cheese, sherry, and shrimp are spooned on prepared sole fillets, then baked until lightly browned.

Here's a dish to buoy up even appetites that sag.

6 serving-size pieces fillet of sole
3 tablespoons butter or New Danish Margarine
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup (½ pint) Light Cream
½ cup Homogenized Milk
1 cup shredded Pasteurized Process Gruyere Cheese (four 1-oz. wedges)
1 tablespoon sherry
1½ cups (about ½ pound) cooked, shelled and deveined shrimp
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Dehydrated Parsley Flakes

Wash and dry fillets. In a small saucepan, melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Stir in flour; cook until well blended and bubbly .Remove from heat; gradually stir in the cream then the milk. Cook over medium heat until sauce thickens and comes to a boil; stir constantly. Add shredded cheese; stir until melted. Remove from heat; blend in sherry. Chop shrimp coarsely, reserving 6 or 9 whole shrimp. In a mixing bowl, combine chopped shrimp, salt, pepper and parsley flakes. Blend in 3 tablespoons of the prepared cheese sauce. Spoon shrimp mixture evenly across enter of each fillet. Fold ends of each fillet over stuffing. Place seam side down in a buttered 12x7½x2-inch baking dish. Pour remaining cheese sauce evenly over stuffed fillets. Place reserved whole shrimp around fillets. Bake in a moderate (350 degree F.) oven 30 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork and sauce is lightly browned.

Sweetbreads Are Enjoyed By Those Who Prefer A Treat

LENTEN MENUS

Artichokes Combine With Fish

Artichokes, California favorites, combine well with shellfish, fin fishes and chicken to make a variety of casserole and salad dishes. Some are expecially tasty for Lenten menus.

ARTICHOKE SWORDFISH

1 jar marinated artichoke hearts
2 lbs. swordfish steak
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup sour cream
¼ cup fine cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons butter

Drain artichoke hearts and grease a baking dish with the marinade. Place steaks in dish and pour lemon juice, salt and pepper over them. Top with artichoke hearts. Spoon sour cream over the fish and sprinkle with cracker crumbs. Dot with butter and bake in a 375° oven for 25 minutes. Serves six.

ARTICHOKE AND CRAB FUJI

2 jars marinated artichoke hearts
1 teaspoon cornstarch
½ cup cold water
½ cup soy sauce
1 tablespoon sugar
1 can crab
Enough cooked rice for 6
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
Green onions, chopped

Stir cornstarch into water; add soy sauce and sugar. Heat in double boiler until thick. Heat the artichoke hearts and crab. Heap hot rice in a bowl and shape like a mountain. Make hole in top like a volcano. Fill crater with smaller pieces of crab and artichoke. Place crab legs out from crater to side of dish, interspaced with artichokes. Pour soy sauce mixture in crater. Garnish with egg and onions. Serves six.

ARTICHOKES AND CRAB-MEAT

2 jars marinated artichoke hearts
1 can crab meat
1 can meatless spaghetti sauce
¼ cup butter
Garlic salt to taste
Enough cooked spaghetti for 6
Parmesan cheese

While spaghetti is cooking, heat the artichokes and crabmeat in a saucepan. In another saucepan heat spaghetti sauce. In a third saucepan melt the butter and add garlic salt. Place the cooked spaghetti on a large platter and arrange the crab and artichokes alternately across the top. Pour spaghetti sauce over half the dish and garlic butter over the other half. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Serves six.

BAY RANCH SALAD

2 jars marinated artichoke hearts (save marinade)
1 bunch romaine lettuce
1 small head lettuce, torn
4 ounces crab meat, fresh or canned
2 green onions, chopped
2 hard cooked eggs
2 heaping tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper

Line salad bowl with Romaine lettuce. Combine 1 jar of artichoke hearts (drained), half the crabmeat, onions, 1 chopped egg, mayonnaise mixed with the marinade from both jars, salt and pepper. Toss lightly with torn lettuce. Turn into Romaine-lined salad bowl. Top with remaining artichoke hearts, crabmeat and sliced egg. Serves eight.

Marinated Artichoke Hearts Are Blended For Side Dish

Serbia, colorful former Balkan kingdom now a part of Yugoslavia, has produced some colorful dishes — including "ivar," a salad or relish used as a side dish for meats.

Now from the gourmet tables of San Francisco comes an unusual spring wedding of the Mediterranean and the Balkan as marinated artichoke hearts are blended with ivar.

CARA MIA IVAR

1 jar marinated artichoke hearts
4 green bell peppers
4 red bell peppers
4 red bell peppers
½ cup cold water
1 clove garlic
vinegar to taste
salt and pepper to taste

Place peppers in a shallow pan and bake at 400 degrees F. for 30 minutes, or until peppers are soft and skin begins to shrivel. Remove peppers from oven, place in a deep bowl and pour cold water over the peppers. Cover with a dish towel for 20 minutes. Remove as much skin from peppers as possiblbe. Chop peppers and garlic.

Add marinated artichoke hearts pre-cut into small pieces, season to taste with salt, pepper and vinegar.

Mix well, return to refrigerator until cold and ready to serve. Serves 4 to 6.

Bon Voyage Celebration Takes South Pacific Islands Theme

By MOLLY MARIN

Leaving Sunday for a six-week cruise of the South Pacific are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carruthers of Kentfield. They sail from San Francisco on the SS Mariposa with ports of call at Bora Bora Papeete, Rarotonga, Aukland, Sidney, Noumea, Suva, Pago Pago and Honolulu.

To get the travelers in the mood for their voyage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Del Mesa honored them at a dinner party for 30 on Saturday. The affair was a costume party with a South Seas theme. Guests wore island attire or cruise clothes. The Barsocchini home was decorated for the occasion with ship's lanterns and other nautical items, including a gangplank. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robart Jr. had a family dinner for Marge and Hugh in Piedmont. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Morse of Kentfield.

While the couple are away Marge Carruthers' mother, Mrs. Richard Smith of San Francisco, and friends will be occupying their house in Kentfield.

AMONG THE COTILLION debutantes this year will be Cindy Leask of San Domenico and Ann Cahill, who attends Santa Catalina School. Ann is the daughter of the John E. Cahills of Kentfield, and Cindy is the daughter of Mrs. Gordon Leask of San Rafael and the late Mr. Leask and she is the granddaughter of the late Charles Howard. Formerly of Marin, Molly Wheary will also make her bow at the December ball in San Francisco. She is the daughter of the Eugene Whearys, who spend much of their time at their Stinson Beach place. The family moved from the Tiburon Peninsula to the city a few years ago, and Molly attended Dominican before she entered Burke's.

AMONG THOSE enjoying the desert sun at Palm Springs and Palm Desert have been the F. Somers Petersons of San Rafael, the Jack Wards of Kent Woodlands, the William Smarts and the Porter Forcades, formerly of San Rafael, and now of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. Gus Rodriguez of Corte Madera left yesterday in their own plane for a three-week vacation in Mexico and Central America.

BRIDE - ELECT CLAUDIA KEPPEL of Tiburon was honored at a kitchen shower given by her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Michael Yuhas and her maid of honor, Sharon Staley at the Staley home in Tiburon. Claudia's 19th birthday was also cause for celebration at the party. Plans for a spring wedding at St. Hilary's Church for Claudia and Gregg Yuhas are dependent upon the Navy's next assignment for the Tiburon man. Claudia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Keppel of Tiburon.

Boys Club Director Talks Of Progress

By BETTY FROST

"We are trying at Marin City to destroy the hopelessness of having a dark skin," said Harold Jackson, executive director of the Boys Club of Southern Marin when he spoke last night at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephens Church, Blevedere.

"Being Negro didn't help me to relate. At first I was suspect, but I am amazed at how quickly this resistance was broken down," the director continued in the talk sponsored by St. Stephens Guild.

The Boys Club, which opened Sept. 26, 1966, is offering a program to 220 boys in the 7-18 year age bracket. It is open five days a week from 3 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. It is one of 700 clubs throughout the country associated with Boys Clubs of America.

The physical facilities include a well-equipped wood shop, a music room, which doubles as a meeting room for a number of community activities, a games room, a senior room for the older boys, a group club room for hobbies and an area for outdoor play, which has volleyball and basketball courts.

The staff includes the executive director, a program director, wood shop director, a secretary, two students and two neighborhood youth corp sboys.

Richard N. Bale of Tiburon is president o fthe board of directors which raised $47,000 to start the Boys Club here from private contributions and grants from Sears Roebuck and the Zellerbach Foundation. Initial expense sincluded extensive renovation of the building rented from the county at a niminal fee. Forty thousand dollars a year is required to continue a basic program, Jackson said.

The executive director spends 12 to 14 hours a day working for the club "to be there when they need us" and assisting with other community needs. He was involved in operation Breakthrough at Tamalpais High School, which he called "an attempt to create a dialogue between white and black, and an important first step."

"The demand of these young people for the attention of an adult who cares is fantastic," he said. "We are still learning about young people, whether they be black, green or gray. There are some very perceptive youngsters asking questions and they want answers.

Each Wednesday night the club director meets with the 16-18 year olds from Marin City

Proceeds from the fair are used to maintain and improve the grounds and equipment of Pixie Place playground.

Mrs. Paul Miersch and Mrs. Al Noble are co-chairmen of the event. They are assisted by Mesdames Geoffrey Bennett, Milton Bullard, Jack Burke, Clark Curtis, George Howard, Edmond Kagi, Mortimer Kohn, Roger Lowe, Peter Nelson, Donald Olson, Maurice Smith, Guy Stevick and Leon Wanerman.

Family Life Council Formed To Meet Community Needs

A Family Life Education Council has been organized in Marin County in response to community interest in strengthening the family to meet problems of the rapid changes of today's society.

Family life education as defined by the council, is a positive approach to strengthening the family for its tasks of nurturing healthy personalities, developing sound values and fostering satisfying and constructive human relations.

Officers elected by the council are Dr. Charles Nagel, chairman; Dan Pelz, vice chairman and Mrs. Marjorie Robba, secretary.

One purpose of the Council is to promote family life education through support of existing programs. The council is making a survey of classes and programs now being held. Programs in the planning and developmental stage may also receive assistance and resource material. Pilot programs may be initiated, serving as demonstrations for teachers to observe with seminar discussion groups.

The council offers its services as a resource group to different avenues of information, such as speakers, films, tapes and group programs. A calendar of family life programs may be set up through the council to avoid duplication of dates.

The council may provide community representation by having each member come as a representative of a particular group or organization, home, school, church, public and private agencies. Council meetings are held the first Tuesday of each mohth, 10 a.m. to noon in the office of Marin County Superintendent of Schools, 201 Tamal Vista Blvd., Corte Madera.

Bon Voyage Celebration Takes South Pacific Islands Theme

By MOLLY MARIN

Leaving Sunday for a six-week cruise of the South Pacific are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carruthers of Kentfield. They sail from San Francisco on the SS Mariposa with ports of call at Bora Bora Papeete, Rarotonga, Aukland, Sidney, Noumea, Suva, Pago Pago and Honolulu.

To get the travelers in the mood for their voyage, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barsocchini of Del Mesa honored them at a dinner party for 30 on Saturday. The affair was a costume party with a South Seas theme. Guests wore island attire or cruise clothes. The Barsocchini home was decorated for the occasion with ship's lanterns and other nautical items, including a gangplank. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robart Jr. had a family dinner for Marge and Hugh in Piedmont. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Morse of Kentfield.

While the couple are away Marge Carruthers' mother, Mrs. Richard Smith of San Francisco, and friends will be occupying their house in Kentfield.

AMONG THE COTILLION debutantes this year will be Cindy Leask of San Domenico and Ann Cahill, who attends Santa Catalina School. Ann is the daughter of the John E. Cahills of Kentfield, and Cindy is the daughter of Mrs. Gordon Leask of San Rafael and the late Mr. Leask and she is the granddaughter of the late Charles Howard. Formerly of Marin, Molly Wheary will also make her bow at the December ball in San Francisco. She is the daughter of the Eugene Whearys, who spend much of their time at their Stinson Beach place. The family moved from the Tiburon Peninsula to the city a few years ago, and Molly attended Dominican before she entered Burke's.

AMONG THOSE enjoying the desert sun at Palm Springs and Palm Desert have been the F. Somers Petersons of San Rafael, the Jack Wards of Kent Woodlands, the William Smarts and the Porter Forcades, formerly of San Rafael, and now of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. Gus Rodriguez of Corte Madera left yesterday in their own plane for a three-week vacation in Mexico and Central America.

BRIDE - ELECT CLAUDIA KEPPEL of Tiburon was honored at a kitchen shower given by her future mother-in-law, Mrs. Michael Yuhas and her maid of honor, Sharon Staley at the Staley home in Tiburon. Claudia's 19th birthday was also cause for celebration at the party. Plans for a spring wedding at St. Hilary's Church for Claudia and Gregg Yuhas are dependent upon the Navy's next assignment for the Tiburon man. Claudia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Keppel of Tiburon.

Easter Seal Group Plans Day At Races

The day's activities include luncheon on the terrace of the Turf Club. Mrs. Barney Norwitt of Tiburon is chairman and decorations chairman. Proceeds will be used to purchase audiometric equipment for the Speech Center of the Marin Easter Seal Society.

Boys Club Director Talks Of Progress

By BETTY FROST

"We are trying at Marin City to destroy the hopelessness of having a dark skin," said Harold Jackson, executive director of the Boys Club of Southern Marin when he spoke last night at Whitaker Hall, St. Stephens Church, Blevedere.

"Being Negro didn't help me to relate. At first I was suspect, but I am amazed at how quickly this resistance was broken down," the director continued in the talk sponsored by St. Stephens Guild.

The Boys Club, which opened Sept. 26, 1966, is offering a program to 220 boys in the 7-18 year age bracket. It is open five days a week from 3 to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. It is one of 700 clubs throughout the country associated with Boys Clubs of America.

The physical facilities include a well-equipped wood shop, a music room, which doubles as a meeting room for a number of community activities, a games room, a senior room for the older boys, a group club room for hobbies and an area for outdoor play, which has volleyball and basketball courts.

The staff includes the executive director, a program director, wood shop director, a secretary, two students and two neighborhood youth corp sboys.

Richard N. Bale of Tiburon is president o fthe board of directors which raised $47,000 to start the Boys Club here from private contributions and grants from Sears Roebuck and the Zellerbach Foundation. Initial expense sincluded extensive renovation of the building rented from the county at a niminal fee. Forty thousand dollars a year is required to continue a basic program, Jackson said.

The executive director spends 12 to 14 hours a day working for the club "to be there when they need us" and assisting with other community needs. He was involved in operation Breakthrough at Tamalpais High School, which he called "an attempt to create a dialogue between white and black, and an important first step."

"The demand of these young people for the attention of an adult who cares is fantastic," he said. "We are still learning about young people, whether they be black, green or gray. There are some very perceptive youngsters asking questions and they want answers.

Each Wednesday night the club director meets with the 16-18 year olds from Marin City

Family Life Council Formed To Meet Community Needs

A Family Life Education Council has been organized in Marin County in response to community interest in strengthening the family to meet problems of the rapid changes of today's society.

Family life education as defined by the council, is a positive approach to strengthening the family for its tasks of nurturing healthy personalities, developing sound values and fostering satisfying and constructive human relations.

Officers elected by the council are Dr. Charles Nagel, chairman; Dan Pelz, vice chairman and Mrs. Marjorie Robba, secretary.

One purpose of the Council is to promote family life education through support of existing programs. The council is making a survey of classes and programs now being held. Programs in the planning and developmental stage may also receive assistance and resource material. Pilot programs may be initiated, serving as demonstrations for teachers to observe with seminar discussion groups.

The council offers its services as a resource group to different avenues of information, such as speakers, films, tapes and group programs. A calendar of family life programs may be set up through the council to avoid duplication of dates.

The council may provide community representation by having each member come as a representative of a particular group or organization, home, school, church, public and private agencies. Council meetings are held the first Tuesday of each mohth, 10 a.m. to noon in the office of Marin County Superintendent of Schools, 201 Tamal Vista Blvd., Corte Madera.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Why Don't Magazines Run Stories About A Man's Role In Marriage?

DEAR HELEN:

Magazines often have long articles about what a woman should do to make her marriage work. Why in blazes aren't men given some pointers?

When my son marries, I hope he will not leave it all to his wife to see they "live happily ever afterwards."

Won't some of the men who read your column write in and tell us what they think males should do to create happy wives? —READER

DEAR READER:

Men are much better at telling women where they should shape up to create happy husbands.

But you've asked, so I'll pass the word along:

DEAR MEN READERS: Please make with the suggestions on how you can improve your marriages (other than cancel wives' credit cards.)—H.

P.S. I don't exactly expect a deluge of mail.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm getting a divorce and living at home with my parents. My mother never seemed this way before, but now she's forever telling me what to do, and even what to say. I was married over a year. How can people change like this?—H. S.

DEAR H:

Your mother didn't change—you just grew up. A divorced woman is no longer a little girl who minds her mother. Why not look for a job, and perhaps an apartment of your own?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I couldn't pass up "Tradition Lover's" letter without answering it. I wish she were mine! We have 17-year-old twins and they couldn't care less for traditions. We have a big house and a large dining room. I love to cook and have all the relatives here for holiday dinners, but our children would do anything to avoid spending time at home. They act as if they can't stand it.

I've about decided to sell and move into a mobile home which I can maintain easily and be employed elsewhere.

See how different people are? Being born into a family doesn't necessarily make us compatible. Too bad we can't do some shifting around.—HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK:

A big house and big holiday family dinners don't always insure closeness between children and parents, not unless there was a great deal of laughter, understanding and appreciation all the way up the line.

Something went wrong here on both sides of the fence. Instead of abdicating, dig down deep and try to find out how and why it happened. Perhaps it's still not too late for compatibility, if you'll stop laying all the blame on the twins.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband works nights and two nights a week he comes home late. When I ask him where he was, he says he had a couple of beers, but his breath doesn't smell like beer.

He told me lots of girls go out with foremen they think can help them get a better job. My husband is a foreman. Helen, this is only my suspicions, but what do you think?—UPSET

DEAR UPSET:

I think if your husband had hankie-pankie in mind he'd gargle with beer to make his story sound true. And he'd clam up about the eager girls. Trust him.—H.

BOYS CLUB

and teen-age boys from other parts of the county. "The first time we met," Jackson said, "we sat there for half an hour and no one said anything. Then they began to talk about some of their problems—including names, bad grades, inconsistent treatment by teachers. These sessions have had at least two constructive results. 1. The boys now have social evenings together and often meet in each other's homes. 2. They approached Jackson to be their spokesman to discuss their grievances with their teachers and better understanding was reached.

"I stay awake nights worrying about youngsters exposed to things that deprive them of the possibility of continuing their education. Despite poor attendance and poor performance, some have real ability and could learn fast." The methods of control of a small community, where a neighbor would tell a child's mother about some act of mischief and the mother would tell the father who administered firm discipline are not used in an area where the community is semi-permanent in character, there is a high percentage of broken homes and controls are loose, Jackson explained.

"This is not a problem special to Marin City," the Boys Club executive, who came to Marin from New York City after 11 years in Boys Club work, continued. "The trend is evident in New York, Detroit, Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and other centers where the same things are missing—letting the boys know that they are cared for. We do it at the club."

"Whatever we do we face some barriers," the speaker cautioned, "Our object is to give the kids an opportunity to live together, play together, fight together and disagree agreeably. We are breaking down some walls."

Marin Real Estate Board To Hear Sacramento Assessor

IRENE HICKMAN

Dr. Irene Hickman, crusader for property tax reform who was elected Sacramento County tax assessor last June, will speak at the Woman's Division of the Marin County Real Estate Board March 8.

Dr. Hickman, 51-year-old assessor who was elected in a wave of revulsion at statewide assessment scandals, raised a furor when she expressed an intention to assess property at 100 per cent of its market value. She is a proponent of the single tax theory of Henry George, and spoke in Marin in December to members of the Henry George School of Social Science.

The assessor advocates reforms in Sacramento County to shift 20 per cent of the tax burden from home owners, businessmen and farmers to land speculators and slum owners.

Dr. Hickman, who is the wife of Jack Hickman and the mother of three sons, is a native of Iowa and graduate of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons. She has also taken graduate studies at Boston University and University of California.

The public luncheon will be held by the real estate board women at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera, beginning at noon. Reservations chairmen are Edna Jeffrey, Maggi Walker, Annie Reagan, Jane Curtis and Linda Howell.

LBJ Tabs Clark For Cabinet Job

RAMSEY CLARK
An LBJ promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general will give President Johnson a Supreme Court vacancy to fill — the result of a unique family double-play.

After Johnson promoted Clark to the vacancy yesterday, Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, the nominee's father, said he'll retire by midyear to avoid any conflict of interest.

Early Senate approval of the younger Clark's appointment is anticipated. Three senators heartily endorsed the nomination, with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy,D-Mass., calling it "one of the finest any president has ever made."

Justice Clark, 67, a 17-year veteran of the high court bench, said he'll review the court's docket "for any possible conflict of interests that arise during the remainder of the term" and then decide when to retire. The court term is scheduled to end in June.

The justice's retirement would give Johnson his second Supreme Court appointment. Clark was appointed by President Harry S Truman.

Ramsey Clark, 39, has been acting attorney general since last October when Nicholas Katzenbach resigned to become undersecretary of state.

He'll go before the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday for what is expected to be a brief re-examination of his qualifications. He previously received committee and Senate approval for appointments as assistant attorney general and deputy attorney general.

Clark conducted an informal news ocnference following announcement of his nomination with the same deference — almost shyness—that has marked his conduct in public office.

He greeted newsmen at the door of his fourth floor Justice Department office, accepting congratulations with a smile.

When the newsmen were assembled, Clark headed for his desk, but then decided on a favorite corner near a window: "I always sit in this corner — I feel safer here," he explained.

Then he sprawled in a chair, propped his foot on a wastebasket and casually fielded questions for 30 minutes.

Clark, who never uses his name, William, would be the eighth youngest of the nation's 66 attorneys general, assuming he is confirmed by the Senate.

During the four and a half months he was acting attorney general, Clark remained in his deputy attorney general's office rather than move into the plush, Oriental-carpeted, oak-paneled attorney general's office on the fifth floor.

Although Clark presided over the Justice Department during some trying moments, he carefully avoided controversy. He remained as far as possible out of the line of fire in the wire-tap controversy between Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, even though technically Clark is Hoover's boss.

Tempers At Boiling Point Over Redwood Tree Harvest

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tempers are beginning to boil regarding how much California redwood forest lands should be reserved for parks and how much should be harvested for lumber.

The disputes are over the big trees, many of them hundreds of years old. The conservationists contend the lumbermen want to destroy too many of these and use the land they stand on for growing new crops of timber instead of letting the land be used for parks and recreation.

The lumbermen contend the conservationists are seeking to preserve far too many giant redwoods and that the continuity of the sequoia species will be better served by regular harvesting.

Nothing is farther from the truth of a conservationist claim that the giant sequoia is in danger of disappearing, according to the National Forest Products Association, an industry spokesman.

The association says the California Redwood Association has just completed a survey showing that plantations of the great redwoods are flourishing and spreading not only on the West Coast of North America but on five continents.

They are growing in Russia, Scotland, Wales, France, Italy, Switzerland, Spain, Algeria, Mexico, Brazil, Uruguay, Burma, Hawaii, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

Czarist Russia imported redwood seeds from the Pacific Coast of Canada way back in 1840 and there are now significant plantations of the sequoias in the Soviet Union. Indeed, the association says there are some indications the redwoods ultimately may grow even taller in Russia than in North Aerica.

Redwoods apparently grow faster also in the misty climate of Wales than in North America. The British Royal Forestry Society reported a 94-year-old, 50-acre plantation of redwoods from California seedlings now averaging 111 feet high, and some sequoias planted in Wales only 23 years ago already have branches reaching up 75 feet.

In Hawaii's mountainous Honaunau Forest and on 5,000-foot slopes in South Africa redwoods have reached a height of 100 feet in 40 years.

New Zealand redwoods at Rotarua reached heights of 140 feet and diameters of three feet in 64 years, and 100 feet at age 30 is not uncommon for New Zealand redwoods.

The redwoods transplanted to Scotland from California have grown so tall that some Scotch tourist authorities fear they will interfere with the views and landscape projects.

In spite of all the logging that has gone on in Oregon and California since the days of Spanish rule, the redwood forests have increased steadily in the past century, the association says.

For many years, according to the association, lumbermen underestimated the rate of growth of redwoods. Their giant size and the obvious great age of the trees in the virgin forest caused the belief that the sequoias grew slowly. But the association says they are the most prolific self-seeders and one of the world's fastest growing trees. Moreover, it adds, the rate of growth increases as timber is harvested in the redwood forests because cutting down the huge mature trees leaves more plant food in the soil for the young trees. Excessive preservation of the large trees, thus appears to retard natural reforestation.

The rate of redwood forest growth in California and Oregon appears to have accelerated about 56 per cent in the last 14 years and may double again by the end of the century, the association claims.

Thus, the association concludes that the sequoia is one of the most valuable timber crops in the world.

NEW DELHI (AP) — A student welfare seminar at Delhi University was told 25 per cent of India's college students suffer from some organic or functional disease and that one per cent have tuberculosis.

Drath, Companions Put Out For North Vietnam

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Five American pacifists left this atom-bombed city today aboard a 50-foot ketch they hope to sail to North Vietnam with a cargo of medical supplies.

The ketch, "The Phoenix," is expected to arrive in Hong Kong in about two weeks to load additional medical supplies before sailing to Haiphong, North Vietnam. The pacifists expect to reach Haiphong a week after leaving Hong Kong.

The United States and North Vietnam have not given official approval for the trip. But the pacifists said they received unofficial reports that North Vietnam welcomed their voyage.

About 30 spectators lined a pier in bright sunshine to wave to the pacifists as the Phoenix left Hiroshima harbor.

Making the trip are Dr. Earle L. Reynolds, 59, of Antioch, Ohio, owner of the ketch; Horace Champney, 61, of Yellow Springs, Ohio; Phillip Drath, 53, of San Rafael, Calif.; Ivan Massar, 40, of Boston; and Bob Eaton, 23, of Philadelphia.

Also aboard was Reynolds' Japanese wife, Akie.

Except for Massar and Mrs. Reynolds, the others are Quakers. The pacifists said they would pick up two or three additional crew members in Hong Kong.

These include Mrs. Betty Boardman, 40, of Madison, Wis., who flew to Hong Kong to buy additional medical supplies.

The pacifists loaded 82 boxes of medical supplies aboard the Phoenix in Hiroshima Monday and Tuesday. The supplies cost an estimated $10,000 and they plan to buy another $10,000 worth of supplies in Hong Kong.

The supplies were purchased from contributions collected in Japan and the United States, the pacifists said.

Besides Mrs. Boardman, the Phoenix also will pick up in Hong Kong William Heick of San Francisco, and a Canadian, Richard Faun.

Marin Tars: A Basketball Team Named Desire

By GARY TISCHLER

This is a eulogy for a loser.

Not just any old loser. Not the punch-drunk fighter who gets counted out by his wife with a teabag. Not Joe Bunco who has three deeds to the Brooklyn Bridge and wants to paint it red — with his own paint.

This loser is a basketball team, a bunch of ragamuffins, a passell of mini-giants, some of whom towered as high as six feet four inches off the ground but most of whom couldn't throw a decent shadow in the Mojave Desert. And it is a story about a coach who may be a modern day, clean-shaven Merlin in a business suit.

They're called the College of Marin Tars. They played in a school where basketball attendance is barely surpassing voluntary signups for eight o'clock classes. There were times during some games when you could hear yourself sweat. It was less Cousy, more Kafka.

Which is a shame.

Because this bunch did some, crazy, sometimes ridiculous, sometimes grand things during the course of a 30-game grind.

They lost a playoff game last week.

There was no mistake, no highway robbery by the whistle tooters. It was 86-95. The season was over. Hang up the sweaty oversized shorts. Hang up Numbers 30, 14, 33, 22, 11 and 44 for good.

It was an odd bunch for a basketball team.

A PROBLEM

For Coach Cal Riemcke, the most successful junior college basketball coach in Northern California, it was something of a problem. He had just come off another Golden Valley Conference title, with 12 straight conference victories without a loss. And now it was as if a rich oil well had just started spouting half-roasted peanuts.

Riemcke has been known to materialize entire basketball teams out of thin air. King Arthur would have fired Merlin and hired Riemcke to mass-produce Lancelots. But this time, Riemcke, who rarely screams during a game but grits his teeth a lot, was starting in a near-vaccum.

What he came up with was a nucleus of eight cagers that played like blind men who thought they could see.

PANDIANI

There was Bill Pandiani. Height: 5-9, a refugee out of David Copperfield. Previous season's scoring average: 2.3. Pandiani was quick, slick, supposedly a no-shot. By the end of the final playoff game, while sliding near the exit door on his face after a rabbit-like drive for a basket, he had become the third-highest scorer for a single season in College of Marin History. Total output: 533 points, including four 30-plus nights, a single game school record of 14 assists in a playoff victory, a 17.1 scoring average, a bundle of steals and numerous bruises.

PHILLIPS

Bob Phillips was not a basketball player. He played the game like a street brawler, like a drunk chasing a rolling beer can down a dark alley. He was another giant Tar — 5-9. He scored most of his points underneath the basket, with the visibility zero, marred by elbows and hands and thumbs. He was second in scoring with 360 points, first in free throws and fouls drawn, first man on the press and first in number of times fouled out. He was the darling of the boys in black and white. But somebody ought to pat him on the back and say, "There goes a hell of a ballplayer." His teammates have already said as much by naming him most valuable player for the past season.

OVERLID

Terry Overlid was not short. He was 6-4 but skinny. You wanted to let let him play in his warmup suit so he wouldn't catch cold. He did catch a cold, and a temperature prior to the playoff game. And he played un-

'Labor-Management' Dispute Explodes In NBA

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Lanier's Swing Has Improved Since Try At Switch Hitting

HANLEY

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — Hal Lanier, captain of the Giant infield, didn't exactly inspire his teammates last season. He failed to impress them with his hitting, a weak .231. And until the final months of the season his second base glove work was occasionally erratic.

THE ONE BRIGHT SPOT of 1966 for Lanier was an errorless string of 56 games from July 31 to Oct. 2 during which he flawlessly handled 300 chances, 135 putouts and 165 assists.

Lanier's batting was the big disappointment in his 1966 performance. Ever since a promising rookie batting performance in 1964, Lanier has had nothing but problems at bat. Called up in June of 1964, he hit for a .274 average. In 1965 he skidded to .226. Last year he was almost as anemic at .231.

THE GIANTS SENT Lanier to winter school in Arizona's Instructional League and Charlie Fox taught him the technique of switch hitting. A natural right-hander, Lanier didn't try to overpower the ball when he swung lefthanded.

"That's exactly what we knew would happen," said Fox. "We hoped he would transfer the habit of just meeting the ball from one side of the batter's box to the other. And that's what happened. Now he is just trying to meet the ball, batting right or left."

SINCE LANIER IS NOT a power hitter, light but smooth contact with the ball is the only way he can be effective.

"Hal knows this," said Fox who is going to whistle a caution at Lanier this season if he starts lunging or overswinging. "He worked hard this winter in developing a smooth swing. He led the winter league with a .337 average."

FOX WILL HAVE A perfect view of Lanier batting righthanded because Fox will be first base instead of third base coach this year. Peanuts Lowrey is going to direct third base traffic this season and Cookie Lavagetto, last year's first base coach, will be beside Herman Franks on the bench.

"Even a rear view of Lanier at bat last season left no doubt he was jumping prematurely at the ball," said Fox. "Could this be due to faulty night vision by Lanier?

"NATURALLY, WE'RE AWARE of that wide discrepancy in his day (.290) and night (.144) batting averages last year. He had his eyes checked after the season closed and passed the examination with a perfect 20/20 mark.

"Nevertheless, we'll be watching his day and night hitting very closely this year."

Rich Allen Wants Raise From $42,000 To 100 G's

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

When a guy grows up in Wampum, Pa., it's only natural that he develop a more than passing interest in money.

And when he hits .317, belts 40 home runs and knocks in 110 runs, the interest becomes intense.

So Rich Allen is prepared to spend this summer selling automobiles instead of belting baseballs unless the Philadelphai Phillies fill his pockets with cash.

Specifically, Allen is asking for $100,000, which is considerably more wampum than he got last year. He figures his figures make him worth the investment. But John Quinn, Philadelphia's general manager, who holds the purse strings, hasn't been swayed yet.

"Quinn saw me all last summer," argues Allen, who is keeping busy selling cars. "He knows what I did, what I didn't do. He talks about my salary going up a little each year.

"I want what I'm worth now, not when I'm an old man. He's got my figure. Maybe he thinks I'll come down. I won't."

Allen said he started thinking about this year's contract and the $100,000 figure when he was hurt last summer. He missed 24 games with a lame shoulder.

"That's all a player has got — his body," reasons Rich. "If I'd be seriously hurt so I couldn't play, what would I have? Nothing."

So Allen, who made $42,000 last year, decided to ask for six figures this season. He likes the security that kind of money provides.

Warriors Vs. Celts Tonight

BOSTON (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors would like to win another National Basketball Association game before winning the Western Division title.

They're well on their way to finishing first, but they haven't won in their last three starts, including a 127-123 loss last night to New York in Madison Square Garden.

The Warriors take on the Boston Celtics tonight and Philadelphia the following night, both on the enemy court. And those two Eastern Division powers are tough anywhere.

The magic number remains four for the Warriors—any combination of Warriors victories and St. Louis losses that add up to four would give San Francisco the title.

Willis Reed, who seems to specialize in last-second winning shots for New York, put through the clincher last night with 27 seconds to go. That gave the Knicks a four-point lead. Jeff Mullins made a Warrior field goal afterward, but rookie Cazzie Russell then put through two New York free throws after being fouled.

Reed's buckets ruined a 17-point fourth quarter by Rick Barry, who once again finished as high scorer with 36. Reed had 24 for New York.

The Warriors blew a 59-49 second-quarter lead as the Knicks poured through 12 unanswered points. In the third period, New York went on a 17-6 spurt and never was headed again.

Ho-Ho-Hum, Wilt Gets A Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ho hum. Wilt Chamberlain has broken another record.

Big Wilt made the first four shots he took last night in Philadelphia's 127-107 victory over Cincinnati at Syracuse, N.Y., giving him a National Basketball Association record of 35 straight field goals.

The old record was 31 straight, set earlier this year by Chamberlain.

The record before that was 19 straight, held by Chamberlain.

Besides hitting on 11 of 14 field goal attempts and scoring 28 points, Chamberlain also picked up nine assists and grabbed 36 rebounds against the Royals. Cincinnati was led by Oscar Robertson with 24 points.

The other two games on the schedule were played as a doubleheader in New York.

A field goal by Jerry West and a fumbled pass by Detroit's Dave DeBusschere gave the Los Angeles Lakers a 119-117 victory over the Pistons in the first game.

West, who scored 34 points, broke a 117-117 tie with 37 seconds remaining by hitting a jump shot. Then with six seconds to go, DeBusschere, Detroit's player-coach, took an inbounds pass and fumbled the ball right bake out of bounds.

Army Wants Hal; McCovey Is Already Socking 'Em

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—Hal Lanier, the regular second baseman for the San Francisco Giants, faces the draft.

Lanier, 24, was a day late in reporting to the Giants' Casa Grande camp because he had to take pre-induction physicals in nearby Phoenix at the request of his draft board in St. Petersburg, Fla.

"I was shocked," Lanier said yesterday. "Some of the tests I took I had taken before. I just don't know what's going on.

"I was told yesterday (Monday) the results of these tests would be sent to Florida and that I'd eventually hear from my draft board there."

Lanier worked hard after the past National League season during which he hit only .241. He labored in the Arizona Winter Instructional League to become a switch hitter.

There was other negative news from the camp. Pitcher Juan Marichal remained home in the Dominican Republic from $125,000 to pitch in 1967.

Lew Alcindor Named AP Player Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor, UCLA's super-sophomore, was named today as the college basketball Player of the Year by The Associated Press.

The agile, 7-foot-1⅜ giant spread-eagled the field in the separate balloting that accompanied the voting for the 1967 All-America team which was announced yesterday.

Alcindor, a native New Yorker who has lived up to all the rosy predictions made when he was still in high school, received 215 of 290 votes cast. Far behind in second place was Jim Walker of Providence with 49.

"Alcindor, who else?" was the comment of many voters.

Westley Unseld of Louisville's Missouri Valley Conference champions, was third with eight votes. Clem Haskins of Western Kentucky, Ron Widby of Tennessee and Bob Lloyd of Rutgers tied for fourth with four votes each.

Bob Verga of Duke, Eldridge Webb of Tulsa, Mel Daniels of New Mexico, and Larry Miller of North Carolina, Don May of Dayton, Sam Williams of Iowa received one vote each.

Alcindor dominated even more the voting for the All-America by 308 sports writers and broadcasters, 18 of whom did not participate in the separate balloting for player of the year.

Big Lew received 306 first team votes in the A-A voting for a total of 1,530 points on the basis of five for a first and two for a second team nod. He did not receive any second team votes which meant he was ignored completely by just two voters.

Selected on the first team with Alcindor were Walker, Unseld, Haskins and Elvin Hayes, the Big E of Houston, who did not receive any vote for player of the year.

Verga, Widby, Miller and Lloyd were named to the second team along with Louie Dampier of Kentucky, who slipped from the 1966 first team.

Daniels was chosen on the third team with Butch Beard of Louisville, Sonny Dove of St. John's, New York, Jim Burns of Northwestern and David Lattin of Texas Western.

Players Threaten To Stage Boycott

NEW YORK (AP) — A threat of a players' boycott of the upcoming National Basketball Association playoffs loomed today in an atmosphere of confusion.

A retroactive pension plan is at the heart of the controversy. The players say they have discussed this matter with the league; the league says no.

The player representatives of the league's 10 teams announced at a meeting here yesterday that they would stage a sit-down strike if their demands aren't met by the time the play-offs begin in three weeks.

"The major part of our differences with the owners is that the pension program they offer is far short," said Lawrence Fleischer, the players' attorney. "We received what seems to be their final offer last Friday, and it was rejected unanimously here by the player representatives."

NBA President Walter Kennedy countered with a news conference at halftime of the first game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

TELEGRAM

Kennedy said he first knew of the players association's announcement when he received a telegram at 3:35 p.m., stating:

"Player association at a meeting today, voted unanimously to turn down proposals of Board of Governors in replay to our request. (signed) Oscar Robertson."

He also said that he had held a series of meetings last week with Fleisher and that a retroactive pension plan was not discussed. In fact, he said, the players had never made a request for such a plan known to the league.

However, Al Attles, the San Francisco player representative, said last night:

"It was my understanding that it (the retroactive plan) has been discussed."

Walt Bellamy, the New York representative, said:

"It was discussed in April at the Board of Governors meeting in Baltimore and also at the All-Star Game in San Francisco Jan. 15."

Bellamy also said that on Feb. 21 Kennedy had answered all of the player association's resolutions and that the retroactive pension plan was one of them.

The players want a retroactive plan that would be entirely underwritten by the club owners and that would entitle 10-year men to receive about $600 a month 30 years after retirement.

"If I were to retire now, I would only get about $75 a month," said Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, players association president, who is in his seventh NBA season.

INCREASE

Kennedy said:

"Last Thursday I proposed an increase in the pension plan from $2,000 to $4,000 per year. This would provide a 10-year veteran in excess of $500 a month at the age of 60 or 65."

But, he said, he had not heard from Fleisher or the players association since then until he received the telegram yesterday.

Under the current pension plan, in existence for two years, the owners and players each contribute 50 per cent toward the annual purchase of a $2,000 endowment policy for each player. Under the plan proposed by Kennedy, the owners would contribute 75 per cent.

"It is unbelievably small," Fleisher said of the present plan. "The players have stated for the past three years that they would like their requests met. We want an answer."

"There is no validity to a statement or atmosphere that the owners have said 'Take it or leave it,'" Kennedy said. "I will consider any request, reasonable or otherwise, that they would send to me.

"I will not call a meeting of the owners because of the question of non-participation of NBA players in the playoffs."

The players plan to go before the National Labor Relations Board and ask to be recognized as a union," Fleisher said.

Big Lead For U.S. Skater Peggy Fleming

VIENNA (AP) — America's Peggy Fleming opened up an almost unbeatable lead in the 1967 World Figure Skating Championships today and looked like a sure bet to win her second straight women's title.

After completion of four of six compulsory figures, the modest 18-year-old miss from Colorado Springs had 741.6 points, 50 ahead of Valerie Jones of Toronto, Canada, and 59 ahead of Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany, the 1966 runner-up.

Albertina Noyes of Arlington, Mass. and Jennie Walsh of Torrance, Calif., were eighth and ninth with 649.7 and 638.5 points, respectively.

Two more compulsory figures and the free skating remain.

MODEST PEGGY

Miss Fleming, beside being the best woman skater here is also the most modest. After boosting her first-day lead of 12 points to a fat 50 over Miss Jones, her only comment was:

"I didn't do so good today. I've skated better."

Carlo Fassi, the former two-time European men's champion from Italy who now coaches Miss Fleming, said "Gaby Seyfert is a great free skater but I don't think she or anybody else can beat Peggy now."

Mrs. Jutta Mueller, Gabriele's mother and coach, ruefully agreed: "The best we can hope for now is a second place in the over-all standings. Peggy is practically unbeatable." The first surprise was provided by Austria's Wolfgang Schwarz, who passed his countryman and defending titlist, Emmerich Danzer, in the men's compulsory figures.

FOUR FIGURES

Schwarz totaled 733.9 points for four figures and Danzer had 730.1. Yesterday, Danzer was seven points ahead of Schwarz.

America's Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., retained his third place standing with 714.4 points. The North American champion, Donald Knight of Canada, moved past the U.S. titlist Gary Visconti of Detroit into fourth place. Knight had 714.6 points and Visconti 709.4.

Doral Open: Stiff Test For Golfers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Golfers who prefer the challenge of a long, tough course will find Doral to their liking — 7,002 yards of agony and hazards that have made the course The Blue onster in golf lexicon.

When a choice field of pros tees off tomorrow in the $100,000 tourney, it'll be strictly man versus par on the palm-fringed but also water-trapped layout.

In the six-year history of the tournament, winners who banked the $20,000 prize have always broken par — two-under for an average. But this year the monster may look tougher to the field that includes Arnold Palmer, the only PGA two-tourney winner this year, Jack Nicklaus, and defending champion Phil Rodgers.

During a remeasurement of the course for rating, par was reduced on the 10th hole from 5 to 4 for the maximum-permitted 470 yards.

As in most tourneys, Palmer and Nicklaus, who have never conquered the par-71 Doral, are considered strong bidders. Billy Casper, two-time Doral winner, is on a tour of the Orient.

"I'm playing well," says Rodgers, freckled ex-Marine who edged Jay Dolan and Kermit Zarley by a stroke last year. "If my putter works, I should do all right again."

Putting should be the key to $20,000 first prize, says former PGA champion Vic Chezzi.

"The Doral greens are large and no one will be close to the pin often," Ghezzi noted. "That means that the man who can lag up a long approach or sink has a good chance."

Also vying are former winners Dan Sikes and Doug Sanders, 1967 PGA winners Bob Goalby, Tom Nieporte and Julius Boros, plus budding stars Blancas, Ray Floyd, Randy Glover, Rives McBee and John Schlee.

And ageless Slamming Sam Snead, who missed top prize by a shot four years ago, also will contend for the championship.

In the last six years the tourney was decided on the 72nd hole.

"It's the type of course that doesn't offer a man much chance to run away from the field," says Frank Strafaci, Doral director who claims to have played 100 times before he broke par.

Mails Hopes For Hospital Discharge Soon

Former major league pitcher Walter Mails hopes to be discharged next week from the University of California Medical Center where he is under treatment for a heart ailment.

Mails, head of the San Francisco Giants speakers bureau, suffered a heart attack in December while en route to the Rose Bowl football game at Pasadena.

"I'm getting along fine," Mails said yesterday. "It may be some time before I return to work, but it will be good to get home again."

420 Athletes For AAU Track Meet

OAKLAND (AP)—A new idea in indoor track surfaces is expected to help athletes set new speed records this weekend in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships at Oakland Colesium.

Competition opens Friday with new records expected in the mile run and other men's events and possibly in the 60-yard dash and mile run for women.

Meet director Sam Bell, coach at the University of California at Berkeley, said the rubbery wood surface track — tradenamed Fastrack—could trim as much as a second from some longer events.

Nearly every defending champion is expected.

This is the first time so many women have been entered in the U.S. competition.

Following Saturday's finals, 14 athletes will be picked for two teams to travel to Port of Spain, Trinidad, for the March 11-27 International Games.

In the glamour event — the mile run—Jim Grelle of Multnomah Track Club of Portland, Ore., last year's champion in 4:09.5, faces Richard Romo of the Southern California Striders, who has done 4:01.9 this year; and John Camien of the New York Athletics Club, 4:02.5.

Grelle has a best time of 4:06.4 for the mile and has run more sub-4-minute miles than any runner in history.

Bob Seagren of USC will defend his AAU indoor pole vault ring record of 17-3.

In the longujmp, North Caroline's Norman Tate will try to better his record of 26-6¼; but Tate will face longjump master Ralph Boston, who missed the 1966 competition because of a sore leg.

In women's events, Wyomia Tyus of Tennessee State, an Olympics champion and the world indoor 60-yard dash record holder, will battle with Barbara Ferrell of the Los Angeles Mercurettes in that sprint. Wyomia's record is :06.5 and Miss Ferrell has clocked :06.6 this year.

In other events, the competition shapes up thusly:

Triple Jump — Art Walker, Striders, defend shis 54-9½, the U.S. Indoor and AAU record.

Men's 600—Theron Lewis defends.

Women's 880—World record almost a certainty with Doris Brown, 2:08.5. Pam Piercy of England and other top performers entered.

Phillips Named Tars MVP; Pandiani Picked As Captain

Bob Phillips was the surprise selection as College of Marin's most valuable player, while Bill Pandiani was picked as team captain, by vote of the entire Tar basketball team, Monday night at the Kentfield school.

Pandiani, the spark-plug, consistent backcourt ace, finished third in Marin's all-time season scoring parade with 533 points. Pandiani surpassed previous third-place scorer, Jay Johnson, of the 1965 Golden Valley Conference championship team.

The achievement also advanced Pandiani the No. 7 ranking over two seasons, including practice games, with 608 points.

With this mark he surpassed Ken Anderson of the 1958-59 conference champs, who registered 602 points.

Moreover, Pandiani had 14 assists in the play-off against Siskiyous last week, eclipsing the old mark of 13 established by Johnson during the '65 round robin.

In the Golden Valley Conference play, Phillips wound up with 244 markers and Pandiani totaled 242 to finish second and third to Ron O'Connell of the '65 squad.

Interesting to note that the Mariners now play a 14-game conference schedule because of the split division, Eastern and Western, so Phillips and Pandiani had two extra games. Johnson and Anderson accomplished their marks over a 12-game league span.

Season All Over For Mariner Cage Team

til he couldn't play anymore in that game. He was the Tars' "big" man who fought the 6-8 set on even terms. He looked like Montgomery Clift but Clift never got so many rebounds nor did he score 360 points with the softest shot since a snowflake hit the oven.

SMITH

Russ Smith was a freshman, from Redwood, where he had a reputation as a gunner with some extremely hot nights when he could have sunk a golf ball into an eggcup. But there were nights where he couldn't hit the freeway with a cannon. But this kid was consistent enough to score 347 points and when he was on he was a joy to watch. You could feel his fingers twitching and those fingers practically won the Siskiyous playoff game. He'll be back.

Tom Stetson was almost a forgotten man on the Tar squad. He scored seven points a game, sometimes 12, sometimes 3, once 20. But he could stuff a ball down some of the fanciest throats in the Golden Valley Conference. He drew Mister Big of the opposition. He played defense, which is hard to do in 100-90 games. But he played it well.

There were the subs, the sometime starters, like Russ Williams, who always seemed to be backing into a game when he reported in. But he blew open more than one game for the Tars like a short John Favlicek. There was Ken Blasingame, who wrestled in his last year of high school. What he knew about basketball wouldn't make him a professor. But he had in old-fashioned determination and "we try harder" could fill a phonebook. And Kraig Kilby could miss a layup on one try, come back with a net-cracking hook and blast down rebounds like a man grabbing dynamite out of a baby's hands.

EASTERN CHAMPS

That, for the most part, was the crew. It won the Eastern Division of the Golden Valley Conference, beat every team in the league at least once. It could rock Sierra one night, lose to last-place Redwoods the next. It could topple eighth-ranked Laney and 19th-ranked Siskiyous and get blasted by thirty points. You never knew which.

It had guts. And it wasn't dull. It clicked on a press that could suddenly bubble up points like a one-armed robber on minimal rebounding, classy shooting and a lot of extra-effort sprawling.

Riemcke didn't produce the final miracle. There was no trip to the state tournament. No roses and plaques for the losers.

But there ought to be something. If not champagne, at least some ragged daisies and a keg of beer.

Marin Tar Baseballers Need More Seasoning

College of Marin's baseball crop looks healthy but it still needs a little seasoning.

Coach Pete Limm, in his first year at the Tar baseball helm, has two games under his belt, to evaluate some highly incomplete results.

The Tars have beaten Diablo Valley, 10-9, and lost to Chabot West Valley College of San Jose, 12-4. Neither game was exactly a pitchers' duel.

The Tars were bombed by San Francisco City College yesterday, 22-4, in a game called after 7⅔ innings. Three Marin pitchers gave up 12 hits and 20 walks. Marin's Pat Puccinelli had three hits in four at bats and Bob Lombardi went two-for-four, one of his hits a home run. Marin plays University of California junior varsity tomorrow in Berkeley, 3:15, then treks to Richmond for a tilt with Contra Costa Friday at 3 p.m.

Limm has 24 candidates out for the 1967 Tar edition. Eight of them are pitchers, six right-handers and two southpaws.

"It's really too early to tell what we'll have," Limm said. "We've been playing just about everybody in order to gain as much experience as possible."

Limm has used six of his pitchers, and to keep on the experience trail, has had them throw about 60 pitches each instead of an obligatory two or three innings.

"We're going to develop them gradually," Limm said. "By throwing 60 pitches, they work up to their capabilities. If I leave them in two or three innings, they may just throw 20 pitches or 80. You can't really tell."

Limm has five veterans back from last year's squad, including three starters.

The Tars do not open Western Division play until April 1 against Napa, at Napa.

Cagers Clinch Terra Linda Rec Crown

Mike Hassfield tallied 15 points as the Santa Margarita 49ers clinched the Terra Linda Recreation District senior league championship in boys basketball play at Terra Linda High last Saturday with a 31-20 victory over the Santa Margarita Rams.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Conservative Chart Best For Retirement

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We are in our late 50s with children educated and on their own. We have several thousand dollars in savings and ten shares of Commonwealth Edison and General Motors. We own a small store in which we both work. We could take $3,000 out of the business right now to invest. Please give us your advice." H. B.

A. It is very pleasant to hear from people like yourselves who seem to have worked hard and accomplished a good deal. I see no reason why you should not invest $3,000 conservatively, looking toward the day when you can close up shop and retire.

In your place, I would buy shares with secure income and good prospects for long-term application. In this category, I would include Republic National Bank (Dallas), Standard Brands, a relatively attractive food situation, and General Telephone & Electronics, a strong utility and industrial complex.

Q. "Some time ago, I bought Schering and had a nice profit. I was advised to sell this stock and buy Parke, Davis, which I did. Do think this was wise?" A. N.

A. If I may say so, I would much prefer to advise you before, rather than after, you switch a stock. Now to get down to your question. I see no basis for the recommendation which you received. Parke, Davis is a respected name in pharmaceuticals, but it is heavily dependent on a single product -- chloromycetin.

Basic patents on this drug expired last October, which probably accounted for an earnings decline in the fourth quarter and for the full year. I don't see how profits are going to increase much over the next year or two unless new products are developed — which is problematical. Schering has shown excellent earnings progress in recent years and I believe it will continue to do so. I believe the switch you made was ill-advised and I recommend that you reverse it.

Hilton Chain Will Merge With Airline

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — The Hilton International hotel chain will merge into Trans World Airlines (TWA), it was announced yesterday by both firms.

Spokesmen said directors had agreed at separate meetings to terms which would call for stock and a half share of a "to-be-issued" $50 liquidation-TWA to issue a combination of valued TWA preferred for each share of Hilton International common stock.

Under the agreement, a full share of the to-be-issued stock would be convertible into a half share of TWA common.

The spokesmen said the TWA preferred stock would bear an annual dividend of $2 and would be non-callable for a period for five years. The call price would start at $53 and would scale down over a period of years to $50.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Flat Mileage Best Route And Easiest

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Do you use your car for business purposes or for charitable purposes or for medical purposes?

If you do, you can claim your expenses for the use of your car on a flat mileage basis, rather than having to compute depreciation, gas, oil, tires, etc., and then divide this between business and personal.

Wikel

This is the way it works: For business use, you are allowed 10 cents per mile for the first 15,000 business miles and 7 cents per mile for every business mile thereafter.

You only keep a record of the business miles traveled for your car but like every record you keep, you must be able to substantiate the fact that the car was used for business and the number of miles traveled.

You cannot use this system and also claim depreciation on your car.

You cannot use this system if you have previously taken extra first year depreciation allowance on your car or if you have previously depreciated by one of the accelerated methods.

If you are reimbursed for the business use of your car by your employer and this reimbursement is less than 10 cents a mile, you may include the reimbursement in income and deduct the 10 cents a mile up to the first 15,000 miles and 7 cents a mile thereafter.

If your reimbursement is in excess of 10 cents a mile, but not more than 15 cents a mile, you wouldn't want to use this system, but you do not have to account for your automobile expense because you are considered to have accounted to your employer for the expenses. If your reimbursement is in excess of 15 cents a mile, you will have to include the reimbursement in income and itemize your automobile expenses.

You can use this system and in addition deduct parking fees and bridge tolls.

If you use your car for charitable work such as soliciting funds for the United Fund, carrying children back and forth to Sunday School, doing work for the hospital, traveling from home to the place where you render personal services to a charity for which you are not reimbursed, you can deduct 5 cents per mile for the charitable use of your car.

If you use your car for medical transportation, you can increase your medical expense deduction by 5 cents per mile for such use of your car.

In both these cases you can also deduct bridge tolls, parking fees, etc. You must, of course, be able to prove that you actually used your car and the actual number of miles traveled.

You can never deduct fines for parking and traffic law violations.

Income Is Up

Bank Lend News Spurs Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today in heavy trading. The market responded to news that the Federal Reserve Board was easing the money supply by expanding the lendable funds of the nation's banks.

Volume for the first four hours was 8.41 million shares compared with 6.66 million for the like period yesterday.

The market rose from the start on overnight news that the federal reserve board had moved to increase lendable funds of the nation's banks. It was the same kind of easier-money news that spurred the January rise.

Ling Temco Vought held a gain of half a dozen points. Draper Corp. was up more than 5 on news that Rockwell-Standard is offering to buy 1,050,000 shares of Draper at $30 a share.

IBM advanced more than 5 points, Douglas Aircraft about 3½.

The rally took in most major sections of the list including steels, motors, aerospace issues, electronics and nonferrous metals.

Outboard Marine, a fractional gainer, paced the list on volume.

Prices rose in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

People Suffer From Lax Public Hearing

Public agencies are often lax in conducting public hearings at times duly established and advertised.

This applies to various groups from county supervisors to the smallest boards and commissions.

If a public agency sets a 2 p.m. hearing on a given day, persons interested in that hearing often undergo considerable inconvenience to arrange their own affairs so that they can be at the appointed place at the appointed time.

All too often, they find that the matter has been "continued" to another time later in the day or to a later date. The word is always "continued." There seems to be an unwritten taboo against the use of the more accurate word "postponed."

If the participants are fortunate enough to find the matter not "continued," they are likely as not to find that the item of their concern is one of several matters scheduled for the identical time. And a "2 p.m." matter can wind up well after dark.

Some years ago this situation approached the ridiculous. The county planning commission formerly started its meetings at 8 p.m., and all notices of hearings on planning matters bore the notation that they would be heard at 8 p.m. on a given date. But the list of items set for 8 p.m. turned out to be so lengthy that some could not be heard until well after midnight. This obviously meant that a matter advertised for hearing on a certain date was not actually heard until the following day.

Each instance of delay and postponement causes participants great inconvenience and in some cases unnecessary expense.

An applicant for a minor planning variance might have to forego work, not one day but several days, in order to assure his presence at the precise moment the public agency decides to take up his matter.

If an attorney were required to make several "false alarm" appearances, when only one would have sufficed, his fee would have to be raised accordingly.

Aside from these practical considerations, there is the equally important philosophical objections to this practice of failing to abide by the schedule set up for hearings.

Public officials who acquiesce in the delays and postponements of scheduled matters are oblivious to and unconcerned with the unnecessary inconvenience and hardship imposed on the innocent public.

Their attitude at times amounts to contempt for the public's discomfort.

Among other things, this tendency to ignore hearing schedules and dates is essentially un-American because our government exists to serve the people. Government officials should be servants of the people and not the masters.

Public officials who set times and places for hearings should do so with a deep sense of responsibility and with more determination to see that their promises are kept.

Marin's Ringtails Near Extinction

The ring tailed cat is a small, friendly animal, weighing about two pounds. It has a long, fluffy tail, with black rings around it, from which it takes its name.

We've only seen one and that was in Taylor Park when we camped out for the night beneath the stars. It was a friendly, inoffensive creature, pausing about three feet from our face to give us a once over with its large dark eyes, and continued on its unhurried way.

These gentle beings are valuable in that they consume large numbers of rats and mice. But they have been reduced to a dangerously low number and face the possibility of extinction in California.

Government Reporter Training Idea Deserves Some Thought

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Suggestion of Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, president pro tempore of the senate, that a state private internship program for journeyman reporters be established to give them experience in government operation is something new under the sun.

The suggestion provides food for thought, at least, and coming from Burns, it can't be dismissed as another crack-pot suggestion to add dollars to the cost of government for the brain-washing of potential political writers.

IT'S FAIRLY obvious that any experience a reporter, or for that matter an individual in any line of work can obtain, is going to benefit his future activities and add to his capacities in his chosen business or profession, if the individual is capable of absorbing the experience.

Burns made his suggestion at a conference of the California Intercollegiate Press Association, which held its 18th annual convention in Sacramento over the weekend.

The association is an organization dedicated to maintenance and improvement of responsible journalism on campus. Representatives from 25 California campuses attended the convention, which featured talks and panels on almost every phase of journalism.

IN HIS TALK to the group, Burns declared "we have a first-hand knowledge that what appears in print does not always represent the total picture, and in some cases, does not even remotely resemble the facts. Usually, this is due not to any malfeasance on the part of the reporter or his editors. It is, instead, a result of an inability to really know and understand the problem being discussed in the news article or news broadcast."

There are, however, some more basic reasons for such a situation, if it exists which is debateable, than inexperienced reporters. One of them is the development and usage of electronic devices for the transmission of so-called news through radio and television.

THIS DEVELOPMENT has in fact, changed the entire complex of the press conference as it was before electronic media usurped the printed word. The press conference of today has developed into nothing but a television show which tries the patience of experienced reporters in attempting to pursue a subject in all its phases.

In other words, newspaper reporters, experienced and inexperienced alike, are being denied their perogatives of long-standing, which have been taken away from them perhaps unwittingly. One of these perogatives was to develop information through thorough, and if necessary, lengthy questioning of state officials and legislators, with the objective of reporting the information thus developed, to the public.

ANY "INTERNSHIP" especially one at public expense, could do little to remedy this situation, which is one depriving the public of the total picture Sen. Burns mentions.

Legislators generally want to be presented to the public in the most favorable light possible, and resent criticisms even when those criticisms are based on fact. Internships might tend to brain-wash a reporter, and thus avoid publication of some of the fact that public has a right to know.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Local Politicians Criticized By Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Having read the I-J since I was able to read, it continually amazes me to see how gullible people are. These small towns, villages, etc., that have incorporated. Every night the paper is published, one or more city councils is in a dither fighting among themselves. These psuedo politicians, ankles, nincompoops who get voted into these offices on their looks, behavior, social etiquette, etc., instead of being leaders able to guide and make decisions on their own. Rather than have to hire outside experts at fantastic salaries that they should be able to do themselves. Most of these have been in their respective neighborhoods under 20 years. I was born in Tiburon in 1906. I have seen the changes over the years. They have not been for the better in the last 10 years.

I believe the city council should be made up of the businessmen of and in the community. Not these Johnny comes lately who only sleeps over here. If politics is their hobby let them pay for their hobby as anyone else has to, not impose their whims on the rest of the people.

Rail Proposal Costs Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

According to county supervisor Peter H. Behr in your article of Feb. 16, converting the NWP railroad right of way for 5.7 miles from Corte Madera to the foot of Waldo grade into a single exclusive reversible bus lane would cost about $100,000 a mile to construct, excluding the cost of right of way.

At this rate the total cost of construction would be about $570,000, excluding the cost of about $80,000 for the two bridges mentioned. This plan is contingent upon the NWRR Co. being permitted to abandon their branch line to Sausalito, which act was objected to by the county supervisors in 1959.

In 1959 I was hired to report on the condition of the tunnel in Corte Madera. It is my opinion that it would use the entire $570,000 to concrete the tunnel and put it into first class condition.

To eliminate the tunnel by making an open cut thru the hill might even be more expensive. It would require the removal of a few residences, a bridge to afford access from Chapman Drive, the relocation of a water main and utilities, the possible construction of a huge retaining wall, the excavation of a great quantity of earth and possibly rock, and probable very long haul to get rid of the excavated material. An accurate estimate of this plan would require a very detailed field and office planning.

Mother Applauds CIA-Student Link

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Perhaps because I'm "uninformed," as are so many other citizens, I find the current expressions of shock at the activities of the CIA surprising, and a little amusing.

While the "far left" politicians and Communist-front organizations have been using our tax-supported universities as their stomping grounds and, I suspect, we have been spending hundreds of thousands of dollars in salaries to professors and teachers, who have used class time to "push" their own political views and ideologies, there have been many occasions when I have wondered, as "fearful" people do, "Who is minding the store?"

Now we have the comforting assurance that someone has been doing so.

There has been plenty of evidence that the CIA, of which I know absolutely nothing, except that it is OUR intelligence agency, has been using OUR money to finance garnering information, which they hope will help them guard OUR security. However, it seems that they didn't play fair. They had the audacity to employ the same group that the Commies have selected as their main target, namely, our young students. Hence, the cry of "Foul!"

May I, a fearful, fed-up, weary, tax-paying, ignorant (I hate euphemisms) parent, offer a lone, feeble, "Bully for you!" to the CIA?

State Worker's Lot Not All That Rosy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Robert Leach's blue collar worker praising Governor Reagan and condemning state employees is very unfair. State employees get 8 to 11 holidays per year. What's so great about that?

. . . Surveys show that state workers get less pay than private industry for comparable jobs. Even Governor Reagan admits this fact. State workers do not get overtime pay, do not get unemployment insurance, do not get paid hospitalization . . .

State workers contribute 5 to 11 per cent of their salary to buy their own retirement. They must travel to jobs on their own time and they are paid only once a month even though the law requires that employees get paid at least twice a month.

Mr. Leach speaks about civil servants being arrogant. To this I say courteous people are usually treated with respect and courtesy.

Mr. Leach suggests that one architectural design be applied to every school that is built. This is exactly what they do in China and Russia. I don't really believe that this is what Mr. Leach would like.

With regard to the kids at Berkeley whether they have a beard or not they will be the American leaders of tomorrow. And in all likelihood will do a better job than the warmongers of today.

Finally, if Mr. Leach thinks state workers have it so great, why doesn't he take a civil service examination—or would this be too difficult for him? Oh yes, one thing Mr. Leach. You no doubt know that state employees are also taxpayers!

Where'd Nancy Go In Her Newspaper?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have never written to the editor before (although sorely tempted at times), but must protest the taking out of Nancy from the comic page, regardless of what replaces it. With Pogo, The Ryatts, Orphan Annie and Moon Mullins left in, it leaves only Lolly and The Family Circus worth reading on the page.

Please try to put Nancy back one of these days!

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A RAMSHACKLE movie emporium in a New England factory town had lost money consistently for seven years, yet a New York businessman plunked down hard cash for the property without even bothering to inspect it. When he finally did turn up for a looksee, the local manager glumly pointed out that there were exactly eleven people in the matinee audience. "Do you think you can make it go?" he asked at the completion of the tour. "Why not?" said the New Yorker cheerfully. "It's eighty per cent wood."

WEBSTER WOULD faint:

ANGLER — A humanitarian who saves many a fish from a watery grave.

BARGAIN SALE — Where women fight for merchandise that's reduced in price because nobody wanted it in the first place.

HYPOCRITE — An undertaker looking heart-broken at ten-thousand-dollar funeral.

INTERIOR DECORATOR — One of the few people able to rave over a bottle when it's empty.

The Right Of Free Speech Does Carry Responsibilities

WASHINGTON — Why aren't more voices raised in behalf of everyone's use of the right of free speech without harassment?

Part of the answer may be that those students and adults who are most intent upon keeping others from using free speech hug the mantle of liberalism so closely that the liberal community shrinks from speaking out against their actions.

ANOTHER PART of the answer may be that liberals fail to see how dangerously the right of free speech and peaceful assembly is being undermined by attempts of demonstrators to break up speeches they don't want others to hear or by using picket lines to keep people from attending.

These are the anti-free speech, anti-peaceful assembly tactics of the student and adult protesters and I suggest that all of us, including the protesters, ought to think this thing through more closely and not give our silent acquiescence to actions which erode these precious guarantees.

THE FACT IS that these anti-free speech and anti-peaceful assembly tactics have during the past few months been used against the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and others.

Here is the UPI report of what happened on the campus at Stanford University:

"Anti-Vietnam demonstrators attempted to mob Vice President Humphrey. Some called the Vice President a war criminal. A mob of young men and women surged to his car, banged on the windows and doors with their fists and shouted, 'Burn, baby, burn.'"

A FEW MONTHS AGO, when Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was addressing a student group at Brown University, a minority of the students, with some help from outsiders, tried to take over the meeting and in the end rushed the platform and knocked over the dais.

Earlier in New York on the occasion of the Freedom House dinner to present the "Freedom Award" to President Johnson, protesters threw a picket line around the Waldorf Hotel, shouted such things as "LBJ, LBJ, how many kids did you kill today?" And when the President began to speak in the auditorium, one of them jumped up on a chair and tried to shout him down.

We must never waver in our will to protect the right of the minority to dissent and to speak freely without harassment.

But we must also preserve the right of the majority to agree and to speak freely without harassment.

THE PICKET line has its proper uses, but when it is employed to hinder others in exercising the right of free speech and peaceful assembly it is being dangerously abused.

In any free society all the avenues of dissent and protest and all of the means to influence policy and government actions by persuasion are open—the ballot, open debate, organized pressure, diverse editorial opinion, orderly protest.

But when protesters use the right of free speech and peaceful assembly to hinder others from using the right of free speech and peaceful assembly—this is a peril to all freedom and should be seen as such.

IT WAS CHRIST JESUS who said of those who were collaborating in His crucifixion:

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

It is time that those who would crucify free speech and free assembly by harassing its use realize what they are doing.

Peking Posters Baffling To U.S.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Of all the recent "wall-poster" reports from Peking, none has baffled U.S. Intelligence authorities more than one quoting a conversation between Mao Tse-tung and his niece, a student of English.

The bizarre poster, appearing on Feb. 15, reported that Mao lectured his niece, Wang Hai-luong, "to read and translate Chinese classics and the Bible, especially 'the Apocalypse'"—a revelation of things that were, are, and will be.

MAO'S NIECE was quoted as saying that "our instructors will not let us read old books like the Bible, but that certain of my friends have read the book and the novel 'The Dream of the Red Pavillion'."

The latter is an 18th Century Chinese classic, often considered licentious and responsible for the disgrace and imprisonment of the noted Chinese critic Hu Feng in 1957. He was jailed after urging Chinese students to read the novel.

According to the wall poster, Wang's reply brought praise from Mao for her friends and some very unlike-Mao comments from the chairman of the Chinese Communist Party about the Bible.

"THESE ARE THE best historical books in the world, and their language is very beautiful," Mao is reported to have said. He cited passages in both books and pointed out that they allow the reader a better understanding of the world today.

It was at this point, the wall poster indicated, that Mao reproached his niece for "not reading" the holy book, and made his suggestion on "returning to your studies and that translation of the Bible from English to Chinese be undertaken."

The latter suggestion is particularly startling since the Bible has been banned from Chinese bookstores and university libraries by Mao since he came to power in 1949.

THE TEXT OF THE wall poster, bearing the signature of the Peking cultural revolution group, was obtained by U.S. Intelligence authorities from a foreign government after a news agency in that country received it from one of its correspondents in Peking.

In an accompanying memorandum, the agency reported that the poster, completely different from others, had attracted lively curiosity among large crowds of readers before it was suddenly taken down.

U.S. Intelligence experts on China are now studying the text to determine if it contained any message relating to the power struggle in China or any of the strange events that occur almost daily.

ONE GROUP OF experts is examining the remarks attributed to Mao in light of his earlier instructions against the destruction of Chinese literary classics to Chi Pen-yun, a member of the cultural revolution group of the party's central committee. These instructions appeared in an earlier poster in January.

Another Intelligence group has been assigned to determine the accuracy of a report that the poster was put up by the anti-Mao faction.

In making their study, this Intelligence group is examining two theories. The poster was displayed to discredit the aged and ailing leader throughout the Communist world or as a warning that Mao is capable of touching off a nuclear holocaust.

White House Press Card Not Good Enough To Cash Check

WASHINGTON — I have a confession to make, and the sooner it gets out in the open, the better I'll feel about it. I don't drive a car.

Americans are broad-minded people. They'll accept the fact that a person can be an alcoholic, a dope fiend, a wife beater and even a newspaperman, but if a man doesn't drive there is something wrong with him.

Through the years I've found it very embarrassing to admit it to anyone, and my best friends tend to view me with suspicion and contempt.

BUT WHERE I really run into trouble is when I go into a store and try to make a purchase with a check.

It happened again last week when I went to a discount house at a large shopping center in Maryland. I wanted to buy a portable typewriter and the salesman was very helpful about showing me the different models.

I decided on one and then I said, "May I write out a personal check?"

"Naturally," he said kindly. "Do you have any identification?"

"OF COURSE," I said. I produced an American Express credit car, a Diners' Club credit card, a Carte Blanche credit bard, a Bell Telephone credit card and my pass to the White House.

The man inspected them all and then said, "Where your driver's license?"

"I don't have one," I replied.

"Did you lose it?"

"No, I didn't lose it. I don't drive a car."

He pushed a button under the cash register and suddenly a floor manager came rushing over.

THE SALESMAN HAD now become surly. "This guy's trying to cash a check and he doesn't have a driver's license. Should I call the store detective?"

"Wait a minute. I'll talk to him," the manager said. "Did you lose your driver's license for some traffic offense?"

"No, I've never driven. I don't like to drive."

"Nobody likes to drive," the floor manager shouted. "That's no excuse. Why are you trying to cash a check if you don't have a driver's license?"

"I thought all the other identification was good enough. I had to be cleared by the Secret Service to get this White House pass," I said hopefully.

THE FLOOR MANAGER looked scornfully at the pass and all my credit cards. "Anyone can get cleared by the Secret Service. Hey, wait a minute. How did you get out here to the shopping center if don't drive?"

"I took a taxi," I said.

"Well, that takes the cake," he said.

By this time a crowd had gathered.

"What happened?"

"Guy doesn't have a driver's license."

"Says he doesn't even drive. Never has driven."

"LYNCH HIM."

"Tar and feather him."

The crowd has getting ugly, so I decided to forget the typewriter.

"Never mind," I said, "I'll go somewhere else."

By this time the president of the store had arrived on the scene. Fortunately he recognized my name and okayed the check. He was very embarrassed by the treatment I had received and said, "Come on, I'll buy you a drink."

"I forgot to tell you," I said. "I don't drink either."

This was too much, even for him, and he pushed me toward the door.

"Get out of here," he said, "and don't come back!"

Reagan Sends $5,000 Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has sent the Republican Senate and House campaign committees a personal check for $5,000 for seats at a party fund-raising dinner here tonight.

The two committees are trying to raise $500,000 from the dinner proceeds to help finance 1968 campaigns for Senate and House seats.

Reagan has been booked for a speech at the dinner. Other speakers will include Gov. George Romney of Michigan, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was invited to speak, but may not be able to attend.

All city councilmen will be on the firing line, said Sumbardo, plus other city officials. Questions in writing will be given preference, and may be submitted in advance to city hall.

Researchers Invade Plush Bar, Discover Its Rituals

Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — In the plushest cocktail lounge in a certain West Coast city, the regular patrons may start casting dark looks at the bartenders when they hear about this.

It seems a couple of sociologists, unbeknownst to the regulars, spent two years infiltrating the place, with the active but covert help of the bartenders, waitresses and owner. Their purpose: to discover the social function of a typical "upper-and upper - middle - class cocktail lounge."

In other words, to find out who the regulars were and why they went there.

As you might suspect, sex had something to do with it. In fact, quite a lot to do with it.

As the sociologists phrased it, "the major function of the cocktail lounge was the facilitation of casual sexual affairs between high-status married men and young, unattached women."

The sociologists, Julian Roebuck of the University of Texas at El Paso and S. Lee Spray of the University of Chicago, spill the beans in the latest issue of the American Journal of Sociology. Roebuck did the actual spadework and Spray helped him analyze it later.

After selecting the darkest and swankiest lounge he could find in this certain West Coast city (population 250,000 and it was in the best hotel in town), Roebuck began clueing in the hired help.

The owner luckily was an old friend and two of the bartenders were part-time graduate students in sociology. The waitresses soon got the hang of it, and for the next two years everybody kept notes on what the patrons did and said along with their bar bills. All in secret, of course.

They soon found the lounge had a nicely-balanced clientele of 20 regular males, 20 regular females, 10 not-so-regular males and 10 female semi-regulars—60 men and women in all. It was a pretty swinging group, too.

The men tended to be older, wealthier and married (70 per cent). The unattacted women were less well-off and less educated — 60 per cent were single and 40 per cent divorced. There were no married women in the group. None was considered a prostitute and none—men or women had a drinking problem.

Two thirds of the men and 60 per cent of the women were Catholics. The rest were Protestant.

And what they did was . . . well, it was sort of like the game of musical chairs.

But all very refined, you understand. There was a certain "class" way of behaving that they all understood, as rigid and unvarying in its way as the rules of a boys' military school. The article says:

"First, women usually came in alone and did not sit at the bar unless a previous date had been arranged with a man already at the bar. The men came in alone or in pairs and took a position at the bar.

"Women who did not have dates sat at a table, and men who were well acquainted with them might ask if they could join them at a table . . . women who were waiting for a date pointedly looked at their watches. . . .

"The unattached males at the bar who were interested were expected to wait out a woman through one drink, during which time they made inquiries to the bartenders and/or the cocktail waitresses about them and their attachments.

"If they found the woman unattached, they would ask that she be served a drink of her choice. By accepting the drink and nodding her thanks, the woman indicated her willingness to engage in conversation."

This gambit was called a "play." And if it went this far it always went farther.

Occasionally, some boorish outsider who didn't know the rules would blunder in and try to make a play of his own. The regulars called such a stranger a "burglar." And if the burglar got too brash, they'd say something like, "Charlie, slow down and use a little class. If she is available and interested, everything will work out . . ."

The researchers noted that no marriages broke up because of the fun and games in the lounge. The husbands insisted they had busy wives, family pressures, business pressures, "cold" wives and so on that "created a need for extracurricular activities in the cocktail lounge."

The husbands said "they did not feel guilty but would feel shame if caught." They "remained good husbands and fathers at home where they were loved and loved in return," they said.

It was pretty hard work for the researcher. He was "present a minimum of five hours a week in the lounge for the two-year duration of the study," with "all hours of the day from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. and all days of the week being covered systematically."

The two sociologists did not say in their article who paid for their two-years in "a relatively neglected area of research."

But Spray told a reporter Roebuck did all the field work on his own while teaching at San Jose State College, located in a West Coast city of about 250,000 population about 50 miles south of San Francisco.

Swiss Rejects Trial Request

BERN, Switzerland, (AP) — The Swiss government today refused an application by British philosopher Bertrand Russell to hold his self-proclaimed "international war crimes trial" in Geneva.

Russell, 94, picked the tribunal to "try" President Johnson and other U.S. leaders for the Vietnam war.

The Swiss government said the tribunal was barred in accordance with the law prohibiting foreigners from making political propaganda on Swiss territory.

Birth Control Pill Cleared

PALO ALTO (AP) — A new low dosage birth control pill has been cleared by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, Syntex Laboratories said yesterday.

Syntex currently markets Norinyl. The firm said the new pill contains half the hormone content of Norinyl. The new product will be introduced to the market in about three weeks, said Paul O. Bancroft, Syntex vice president.

Another Syntex spokesman said the new pill "still exerts the same control of fertility as the higher dosage forms."

BART's Control System Awarded

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. was the low bidder yesterday on the Bay Area Rapid Transit District's control and communication system.

The bidding was on three alternate plans for the system. The first plan would have the system completed on schedule while under the other two plans it would be completed two or four months later at slightly less cost.

Westinghouse's bids were $26,199,959, $26,143,959, $26,078,959.

Tree Yields Marijuana

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patrolman Walter Garry shook down an oak tree yesterday and said that in among the acorns he found four pounds of marijuana.

Garry said he also found, high in the branches, Philip A. Allen, 20, of Napa, and Penelope Poulton, 19, who were booked on charges of possession of narcotics.

The policeman said he was drawn to the Golden Gate Park tree by girlish squeals among the flora.

The Hudson's Bay Co.—a firm that began exchanging beads for beaver skins almost 300 years ago—still trades for furs in remote Canadian outposts.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Any Emotional Outbreak Can Start Food Starvation

VAN DELLEN

A 23-year-old stenographer developed an aversion to food. She began to lose weight and within a year was down to skin and bones and had to be fed through a tube. The same thing happened to a 30-year-old housewife whose weight dropped from 136 to 63 pounds. Both had been healthy, but their families and physicians could not persuade them to eat.

What makes individuals starve themselves in this way? These two women developed hysterical aversion to food as a result of an emotional disturbance. Most victims of anorexia nervosa are young females, seven out of 10 are under 26. The condition usually escapes detection until it is well advanced. In the early stages it may be mistaken for a stomach or glandular disorder and most of the tests and treatment are directed along this line.

PSYCHIC LOSS of appetite comes on gradually but as it gains momentum the individual has a real obsession on eating. There is a repugnance for food associated with many morbid ideas relative to what food does to the body.

In addition, menstruation stops (amenorrhea) and this, when combined with loss of appetite (anorexia) and weight, completes the triad of symptoms that characterizes the disturbance. Although many physicians find it difficult to believe that nervousness is responsible, psychiatric care has led to cures.

WE KNOW that nervousness affects appetite. All of these sufferers need psychiatric attention to help overcome the fear of eating. Institutional care is necessary when the illness is severe because shock treatment may be required. Recovery is a slow process and many years may elapse before they learn to eat normally.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

DEFICIENT CIRCULATION

T. B. N. writes: Does poor circulation cause pain?

REPLY

Yes, but not until the circulation is curtailed 70 per cent or more. The earliest sign of poor circulation of the legs, for example, is pain in and about the ankles and soles. With further impairment, soreness of the calf develops on walking, which is relieved after resting a moment or two. With further curtailment of circulation, a burning pain occurs over the toes and feet, which is constant and unrelated to exertion.

NOSEBLEED AND PRESSURE

P. J. writes: Why does high blood pressure cause nosebleed?

REPLY

A small vessel in the nose ruptures because it cannot withstand the high pressure. For many hypertensives, nosebleed is a godsend because it acts as a safety valve. In this respect, it is better to have a vessel break in the nose than in the brain.

MILK IN ULCER

J. F. writes: I have a duadenal ulcer. Could I go on milk or buttermilk diet as I am very fond of both?

REPLY

J. F. writes: I have a duodenal ulcer. Could I go on milk sician who took the X-ray for a more complete ulcer diet? He also may prescribe one of the modern remedies that controls the acid secretion in the stomach.

MORNING HEADACHE

N. W. writes: I am 81 years old and am in good health but for the last month have had every morning a headache which lasts until noon. Does this mean anything?

REPLY

Morning headaches usually are traceable to high blood pressure or a circulatory disturbance.

TELEVISION REVIEW

CBS-TV Is Courting 'Younger' Audience

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —A subtle indication of CBS-TV's announced fall schedule is that the network long known for its courting of older viewers, is seriously joining the race for the "young adult" audience.

In television jargon, a young adult is generally anyone between 18 and 49. CBS-TV's two competitors, ABC-TV and NBC-TV, already have committed themselves fully to battling for dominance of this audience. The reason, as with virtually everything else in television, is money. Television's chief job is to sell products —with entertainment used as the lure —and the 18-to-49 group spends most of the money in the nation. Some statisticians claim that women between 18 and 34 are the real prize audience of money spenders —especially the housewives in that age range.

At any rate, CBS-TV, although it still has some series that are intended to appeal to older persons, is subtly changing its programming pattern — and since this network has been the longtime ratings leader, it is worth noting the signs of transformation.

For example, among the programs being continued are the series of Lucille Ball, Red Skelton, Ed Sullivan and Andy Griffith — but all of these are rare cases of exceptional stars with exceptional overall drawing power. Furthermore, Sullivan and Skelton have been among the veterans who quickly recognized the audience appeal of younger musical groups and booked them.

On the other hand, consider how many longtime staple CBS-TV series have disappeared in the last few seasons, or will be gone by the fall. There was the Garry Moore show, which collapsed after Carol Burnett left it, and was disastrous when it tried a comeback. There was the expert "Perry Mason" entry, and there was the fine western called "Rawhide."

Now we have the cancellation of "Gunsmoke," "Candid Camera," "What's My Line?" "I've Got A Secret" and "To Tell the Truth." All of the shows in this group of five —except "Gunsmoke" —are trivial, mindless bores, but they did represent CBS-TV program stability, and at one time drew hefty ratings —mainly from veteran viewers.

Behr Sidewalk Safety Plans Gain Support

A sidewalk safety program in Marin, proposed by Supervisor Peter H. Behr yesterday, received hearty endorsement from fellow supervisors.

Behr said he had received complaints from concerned parents over lack of sidewalks near several elementary schools. He said the property owners cannot be forced to put in sidewalks, unless it is part of a project financed by 50 per cent or more in public funds.

He suggested a budget of about $10,000 next fiscal year to finance projects where by the county can put up a fourth, the school district a fourth, and property owners half of the cost of sidewalks.

He also suggested that the county traffic engineer establish a priority list.

Board Has Little Aid For Power Line Foes

William S. Neal, chairman of Marin's "Little Woodside Committee," did not get much help from county supervisors yesterday in seeking undergrounding of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. transmission lines from Ignacio to Sausalito.

Supervisors said they did not see how they could force the utility to underground the lines, particularly since the lines are not new, but are only to be replaced by bigger overhead lines.

Dr. Neal said the lines passing through Loch Lomond and Country Club Estates and other populated areas are unsightly. He said the utility is seeking to widen its easement for the lines from 25 to 50 feet in some areas.

Donald Johnson, Marin manager of PG&E, said he doubted undergrounding would be economically feasible, even if financed through assessment districts in the neighborhoods involved. He said undergrounding of smaller distribution lines in tracts runs as high as $1,200 per lot and undergrounding of the 60,000 to 110,000 volt transmission lines would be about 20 times that cost.

Supervisors asked Johnson to prepare some precise cost figures for Dr. Neal.

January Payroll Sets New Record

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —January employment in California was at a record level for the month while unemployment was at its lowest point since 1960, a report of the Department of Employment showed yesterday.

Employment was estimated at 7,196,000, up 322,000 or 4.7 per cent from January, 1966. Unemployment was 419,000.

The department said all major industries except construction and agriculture register January highs.

Lower Hot Rodder Roaring Is Sought

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Hot rodders and sportscar enthusiasts literally would have to hold it down to a low roar—88 deibels—under legislation proposed by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka.

Collier's bill yesterday proposed a motor vehicle exhaust noise limit patterned after the New York vehicle noise emissions law. Such bills have a 12-year history of legislative failure in California, Collier said, however.

Personal Auto Plates Possible

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California cars may soon zip down the highway with license plates proclaiming "WHOPEE" or "000007."

But, in the best fashion tradition, they'll only be one of a kind The price: $25 plus incidental handling costs.

The prospect arose yesterday as the Assembly Committee on Transportation and Commerce recommended passage of a bill allowing the state to issue personalized license plates.

Any six-character combination would be ordered, provided it isn't obscene. No duplication would be permitted and orders would be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Fashion Show Set

A spring fashion parade will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Northgrate Fashion Mall — another activity of the Marin Mannequin League on behalf of Muscular Dystrophy.

This is the third year the group of Marin models has donated time for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Twelve members of the league will be modeling outfits from Northgate stores that represent the latest in America's fashion world.

All proceeds from the show and others conducted by the group throughout the year go to the charity.

The Northgrate show will be held on the bridge and island of the Promenade Pond. A runway is being constructed for league members on the bridge, extending to the platform on the island.

The show will be narrated by Grace Hughes and programs listing garments and contributing stores will be distributed to all visitors.

Programs will be numbered for drawing and Northgate merchants will provide flowers for visitors. Chairs will be set up around the pond.

Count Marco, distinguished, mustachiod and controversial syndicated columnist will also be a special guest at the Spring Fashion Parade.

A fashion designed, make-up expert, coiffeur stylist and cosmetician, the count is noted for his caustic observations.

He will be on a raised dias at the beginning of the runway, where he will act as a kibitzer as the models pass by. His appearance is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Professors Are Probing Democracy

Special to the I-J

SANTA BARBARA — Will the United States join history's other great powers in going downhill?

This question is posed by four political science professors who warn in a new book that "power can endure only if it is justified, not by those who possess it, but by those who do not."

Entitled "American Democracy in World Perspective" (Harper and Row), the volume is an examination of American democracy today "as it undergoes vast changes in its domestic ideas, policies and institutions, as well as in its relations with the rest of the world."

Its authors, all from the University of California here, analyze American government in the perspective of other democratic principles and practices with authoritarianism.

Novelist To Autograph His Work Saturday

An autographing party, at which readers will have the opportunity to meet the author of the best-selling novel, "The Symbol," will be held at Walden Book Store, Northgate Shopping Center, Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m.

The novelist, Alvah Bessie, has been a resident of Terra Linda for the past year, and is known for a number of novels and non-fiction books including "Inquisition in Eden" (1965), "The Un-Americans" (1957), "The Heart of Spain" (editor, anthology, 1952), "Bread and a Stone" (1941), "Men in Battle" (1939) and other works.

Bessie's current novel is set in Hollywood.

It is the story of "the creation and destruction of that fragile, glittering essence called Movie Star" (Hollywood Reporter, Friday, Dec. 30, 1966). A screen writer for many years in Hollywood, Bessie has had ample opportunity to study the "Star" at close range.

Out of his observation, with a rare sympathy and understanding, "The Symbol" emerges.

Bessie leads the reader into the intimate regions of the mind of a woman who has "everything" a girl could ever want—glamour, money, success, and is destroyed by the very ideals she spent her life attaining.

Polar Bears Out On New Currency

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Greenland's currency, portraying Polar bears and icebergs, is expected to be replaced by Danish money, featuring idyllic European landscapes by July 1.

Government - sponsored legislation for currency standardization is aimed to remove one of the last vestiges of separate colonial status from the world's largest island, which was a Danish colony until 1953 when a referendum made it legally a Danish county.

Devoted Group Trying To Bring Back The Fine Art Of Clowning

BERNARDSTON, Mass. (UPI) — Raymond Bickford's friends include lawyers, salesmen and two morticians, and they are all clowns.

Bickford is president of the Clown Club of America. Its 200 members are professionals, semipros, amateurs and "honoraries" like Red Skelton.

"It's sad," he said, "but clowning is a dying art. Kids today can't run away with a circus—they're lucky to find a circus."

Grayhaired and rotund, Bickford is 71 and a retired highway engineer. For over 30 years he has been a part-time funnyman. His weekend stints at fairs and circuses almost cost him his engineering job.

My boss thought I was a nut," he recalls. "One day he refused to let me sit at my desk. He said I had to see a psychiatrist first. So I did and I convinced everybody I wasn't goofy."

According to Bickford, there are no schools for aspiring clowns. And books on the subject are collector's items. He said the situation is made worse by the high costs of putting on a circus today. There are fewer clowns, fewer jobs, and only occasional bookings at county fairs or children's parties.

"That's why the Clown Club of America was formed," he said. "Some postal clerk in Los Angeles started the thing. He was a part-time clown. When he died I took over the reins nine years ago."

Purpose of the club is to "perpetuate and promote the art of clowning."

Bickford admits the club's framework is a joke. There is no constitution or bylaws, and the $2 annual dues are not mandatory.

Some Cancer Questions Answered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cancer, the nation's second leading killer, discriminates against middle aged women and old men, against city-dwellers and those who live in the Northeast, against the unmarried and the poor — and it discriminates against cigarette smokers.

In a booklet the U.S. Public Health Service gives these answers to questions about cancer:

Q. What is it?

A. An unrestrained, irregular growth of cells that builds up into tumors that compress, invade and destroy normal tissues.

Q. How does it rank as a cause of death?

A. Second only to heart disease and ahead of strokes and accidents. In 1959, 149 of every 100,000 Americans died of cancer.

Q. Are cancer incidence and mortality changing?

A. Both are rising steadily and increasing faster than would be expected from the growth in population. Cancer of the stomach and uterus have declined but lung cancer and leukemia have increased rapidly.

Q. How does cancer vary with age and sex?

A. Cancer, particularly leukemia, is a major cause of death among children 2 to 14. More women than men between the ages of 20 and 40 develop cancer because of the high incidence of breast and reproductive organ cancers. After 60, overall cancer incidence is higher for men. Fatal cancers are usually located in the lung, stomach and prostate gland of men and in the breast, colon and uterus of women.

Q. Are there racial differences?

A. Cancer occurs more in whites than in non-whites. American Indians have a low cancer death rate. Japanese have a high risk of developing stomach cancer.

Q. Are there urban - rural differences?

A. Nearly all forms of cancer are more common in urban areas. Cancer of the respiratory system and esophagus are especially high among urban men.

Q. Are there regional differences?

A. Death rates from cancer are above average in the Northwest and below average in the South and Southwest.

Q. Does cancer run in families?

A. Scientists are uncertain. One rare eye cancer does run in families. Relatives of patients with cancer of the stomach, breast, colon and rectum run an increase risk of developing these cancers, but no one knows if this is inherited or due to environmental factors like diet or occupation.

Q. Do cancer death rates differ for married and single persons?

A. Married persons have lower cancer death rates than single persons. The contrast is more marked for men than for women.

Q. Does cancer occurrence vary with income and social class?

A. The poor have higher incidence and death rates overall. But poor women have lower rates of breast cancer.

Q. Are diet and alcohol related to cancer?

A. A British study has suggested that alcohol consumption and cancer of the mouth, pharynx, esophagus and liver may be related. Deficient diets and malnutrition also may be linked to cancer.

Q. Is radiation a major cause of cancer?

A. There is no doubt that large doses of radiation can cause many types of cancer. Radiation of the neck of infants, once a common treatment of enlarged thymus, seems associated with the current increase of thyroid cancer. Some studies suggest that exposing expectant mothers to X-rays increases the occurrence of leukemia and other malignancies in the child.

Q. Is cancer related to occupation?

A. Yes. Miners, laborers and transportation workers have a higher than average death rate, farmers a lower death rate.

Dr. Seaborg Looks Into 'Clean' Future

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr Glenn T. Seaborg is always looking into the future and seeing wonders:

Clean, smogless, nuclear-powered cities rising from deserts.

Badlands made fertile with water distilled from the sea with nuclear power.

Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, comes honestly by his predilection for prophesy.

Merely by looking backward in time he can get a pretty well-founded feeling for what may happen in the future.

Twenty-five years ago Seaborg was a young professor of chemistry at the University of California in Berkeley. Working with practically nothing—by today's laboratory standards—he and his colleagues produced and analyzed microscopic amounts of plutonium-239 and uranium-233.

These man-made fissionable materials now promise to help provide humanity with all the energy it will need for centuries to come.

But Seaborg and his associates had no idea back then what directions nuclear developments would take. They could not have dreamed of the marvels they were helping to conjure up.

This, according to Seaborg, was fortunate. In a recent talk at Berkeley about those early days of discovery, he said:

"What would have been the reaction of an obscure young chemistry professor named Seaborg if, through the medium of some Wellsian time machine, the future as it has evolved in this last quarter century had been revealed to him 25 years ago?

"I assure you that the young nuclear chemist would have greeted the revelations with disbelief, if not derision. And a good thing, too.

"For had he believed, and attempted to make believers of others, he surely would have spent a good part of the last 25 years in some institution that accommodates people with delusions."

That's as may be. With or without benefit of a Wellsian time machine, Seaborg is now a believer, and wants others to believe, in the good things in store for atom-powered society in decades to come.

Such as cars powered by nuclear generated electricity traveling through mountain passes cut by nuclear explosives . . .

Such as a world made peaceful by unlimited supplies of energy to light the cities and drive the industries of all nations. . . .

Such as . . . But there is not space enough to list all of Seaborg's prophesies.

This tall, craggy man, whose deep-set eyes seem to harber a twinkle even when he is most serious, is about the least likely candidate you can imagine for enrollment in any institution for "people with delusions."

He may not be an infallible seer. But he has grown up with the atom. Considering his knowledge of its past, who has a better right to make uninhibited guesses about its future?

Big Telescope Inside Mountain

WASHINGTON (SS) — A 328-foot telescope designed principally to enable advance warnings of solar proton showers, which could be dangerous to men and equipment in space, is being built on schedule on — and in — a New Mexico mountain.

More than half of the instrument's length will be below ground when it is completed early in 1968 at the Air Force's Sacramento Peak Observatory near Sunspot, N. Mex. The Air Force is anxious to complete the telescope on time, since 1968 is expected to be a year of high solar activity.

In addition, the USAF Manned Orbiting Laboratory, planned for about then, will keep its crew in space for longer than any previous space flight, 30 days, and would be a particularly needful beneficiary.

Russians Produce Lunar Sky Almanac

SPRINGFIELD, Va. (SS) — Soviet astronomers have produced a lunar astronomical almanac containing data on the locations of stars as seen from the moon.

Star charts of the sky from earth become outdated after several years, but a star chart for the lunar sky must be revised after only several days. A group of astronomers at the Ukrainian SSR Academy of Sciences undertook the task of developing the principles necessary to compile a lunar astronomical almanac, under the direction of Avenir Yakovkin.

Copter Refueling Is Cut In Half

FORT EUSTIS, Va. (SS) — A new closed-circuit system for the UH-1A "Huey" helicopters now being used in Vietnam reportedly has cut refueling time in half.

Using the new system, developed by the Army Aviation Materiel Laboratories here, aircraft can be refueled while engines and rotors are running; up to 30 extra gallons of fuel can be carried in the tanks; fuel contamination is reduced; battery wear, which eventually forces a need for "hot starting," is reduced; the need for an electrical grounding cable is eliminated.

A quick-disconnect fitting that automatically seals the tanks when the nozzle is removed allows extra fuel to be taken on by enabling the helicopter to stay on the ground until the last minute. The Army says that the system can be adapted to other types of helicopters, as well as to fixed-wing aircraft and ground vehicles.

Petting Of Kitten Outside Of Duty

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court has ruled that stooping to pet a kitten falls outside the course of employment. A Cambridge business executive claimed workmen's compensation after breaking has arm when he stumbled as he stooped to pet the cat.

A lower court awarded the 83-year-old man $1,003 but the higher tribunal reversed the decision.
